Proposal Will Be Hard to Reject, Is Feeling at Geneva

Geneva, May 4 (AP) — The UN allies in Korea were reported today reading a compromise proposal for unification of the occupied, divided peninsula.

This development was reported by a highly informed source as a delegation of five Vietminh rebel leaders arrived today from Indochina to join the impending talks aimed at ending the seven-year war in that Far Eastern battleground.

The source reporting the projected allied proposal on Korea said it would be a "very difficult thing" for Russia, Red China and North Korea to turn it down.

The Communist reaction to the Allied proposal, the source added, would determine whether there is any real chance of unifying the divided country and holding free elections there.

Has Been Stalemated

Since its beginning, the Korean phase of the Far Eastern Conference has been stalemated by each side's insistence on its own plan for unification. South Korea and her 15 allies here at the conference insist on UN supervision of voting; the Communists demand that all foreign troops get out and elections be held on a basis the west is certain would assure a Communist victory.

Details of the compromise plan could not be learned, but the informant said South Korea and her 15 allies were closer to unanimity on the thorny issue than at any time since the Geneva Conference began.

Officials hope to have all minor differences ironed out and to be able to confront the Communists with a unified plan before the week ends, he added.

Met At Airport

The delegation of Indochinese rebles, headed by graying Deputy Premier-Foreign Minister Pham Van Dong, was met at the airport by an impressive array of Communist dignitaries. Among those on hand to greet them were Russia's Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, Red China's Premier-Foreign Minister Chou En-lai, and North Korean Foreign Minister Nam Il.

In a statement after he stepped from the plane, Von Dong said the Vietminh delegation was "disposed to continue all its efforts toward

Patrick, Lindbergh, Block and Murray Among Those Receiving Awards

New York, May 4 (AP)—The successful four-year fight by Newsday, Long Island daily newspaper, to break the power of a labor racketeer has won the 1954 Pulitzer Prize for meritorious public service.

The 1954 Pulitzer awards, announced yesterday, also honored John Patrick for his play, "The Teahouse of the August Moon," and Brig. Gen. Charles A. Lindbergh for the autobiographical account of his 1927 transatlantic flight in his book, "The Spirit of St. Louis."

There was no fiction award.

Three Democrats Assail Administration of Dewey

Rochester, May 4 (AP)—Three prime spokesmen for state Democrats whaled away at the Dewey Administration last night, calling it, among other things, the "worst government we've ever had" and the product of "sensational press agentry."

Tammany Leader Carmine G. De Sapio contended Gov. Dewey had spread a 'thick smog" to "camouflage" both his lack of constructive programs . . . and the malfeasance and corruption in his administration."

State Democratic Chairman Richard H. Balch said that Governor Dewey told the Legislature in 1946 that the state thruway "should be toll free," financed without bonds, and completed within five years from 1946. Balch said none of those things has been done.

State Democratic Chairman Richard H. Balch said the governor had broken his promises that the state thruway would be toll-free, financed without bonds, and completed within five years from 1946.

"The Dewey fanfare goes on," said Balch, "but the thruway is still not open to the public. . . . I think that in the present government of New York state, we have the worst government we've ever had."

New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner, the third speaker at a dinner of the Monroe Democratic Committee, said Dewey Administration tax policies were illustrative of "unadulterated discrimination" against his city.

Wagner said the five counties in New York city were the only ones in the state not receiving a share of state motor vehicle tax revenues.

He said New York was expected to provide "decent transit and traffic facilities," but the half-million commuters who use the city streets every day pay motor vehicle taxes only to the state.

Wagner said his city was in danger of being "destroyed by those who seek to make political

Stronghold Is Seized by Red Forces

Union Defenders Launch Strong Counterbid at Dien Bien Phu; Rains Slow Tanks

Hanoi, Indochina, May 4 (AP)—Renewing their massive infantry assault on Dien Bien Phu, the Communist-led Vietminh captured a new French strongpoint today on the western side of the besieged northwest Indochina fortress.

A French high command announcement here said the battered French Union defenders inside the crumbling defenses immediately launched a strong counterattack.

"Bitter combat now is underway," the French communique said.

It was the fourth French strongpoint to fall to the rebels since they launched their death blow thrust Saturday night. The assault—suddenly stopped Sunday—was resumed with new fury before dawn today as a violent rainstorm lashed the battered fortress.

The moment appeared right for the rebels to make another attempt to smash the bastion. The drenching rains slowed down tanks operating inside the constricted fortress defenses and forced French war planes to cease their strikes against the attackers.

Must Cover 600 Yards

Before the attack on the west was launched, the French estimated that the Vietminh would have to cover 600 yards before they could stab into the heart of the fortress. But they had to cover only about 100 feet to reach the first French barbed wire barricades and to engage the defenders in hand to hand combat.

The French high command communique this morning indicated the renewed rebel push did not have the same scope of Saturday's assault.

The last attack had come from all sides of the hemmed-in fortress, now reduced to less than a mile across. Before the rebels halted their wild charges Sunday, they overran French strongpoints guarding the western, eastern and northeastern approaches to the command headquarters of Brig. Gen. Christian De Castries.

No Mention of Attack

This morning's communique made no mention of any attack other than from the west, one of the areas in which the rebels scored Saturday night and Sunday.

The Vietminh followed their usual tactic of battering the crumbling defenses with human tidal waves. The advancing columns pressed so closely together that any gaps in the ranks were quickly filled.

Both sides had rushed in reinforcements and supplies during the lull in the fighting.

American-supplied transports roared in to parachute more men and tons of war materiel as soon as the Vietminh charges suspended. The new troops included nearly 150 men who had volunteered to aid their battle-weary comrades.

French pilots spotted hundreds of Russian-made Molotov trucks moving into the rebel encampments in the hills encircling Dien Bien Phu, bringing fresh troops and Chinese-supplied food and ammunition for the besieging legions.

Heavy rainstorms late yesterday grounded the French warplanes, halting their desperate bombing and strafing attacks on the Vietminh concentrations and the supply convoys moving up to them.

City Asks $140,623 In Poughkeepsie Suit

Poughkeepsie, May 4 (AP)—The City of Beacon, in a move believed unparalleled in state history, today sued Dutchess county for $140,623 — the amount of this year's county realty tax against the city.

Beacon accused county supervisors of unlawfully estimating expenditures higher than necessary in order to create a surplus. Moreover, it was contended, the county already had surpluses.

Thus, said Beacon, there should have been no 1954 realty tax at all against Beacon.

Beacon City Attorney Milton L. Epstein said the action probably was the first of its kind in the history of the state.

No Action Without Asian Support, Is Eisenhower View

Senator Flanders Reports Stand After Talk With President on Indochina

Washington, May 4 (AP)—President Eisenhower was quoted by Sen. Flanders (R.-Vt.) as saying today that the United States will undertake no military operations in Indochina "unless it has the support of the people of that region."

Flanders, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, gave the account to newsmen after conferring with the President about the Indochina crisis.

"I was glad to hear the President say that no military operation would be undertaken (in Indochina) unless it had the support of the people of the region," the senator said.

Flanders' White House visit followed close on the heels of word from Senate Republican leader Knowland of California that he would give his "fullest support" if Eisenhower should ask Congress to approve sending U. S. troops to the southeast Asia hot spot.

Given in Interview

Knowland's stand was set forth in an interview last night. At about the same time House Speaker Martin of Massachusetts said in a speech prepared for a Troy, N. Y., GOP dinner that he believes such action "will not be necessary." Martin did not specifically mention Indochina.

He said that anti-Communist Asiatic nations "have the manpower to win their freedom if they receive the material and moral support of the free-world nations."

The Martin talk was conceled after his Washington office announced that bad weather prevented him from flying to Troy.

Knowland said of the possibility that Eisenhower might ask for anthority to send troops to Indochina:

"I will give him my fullest support. I do believe Indochina is the key to southeast Asia and southeast Asia is the key to the balance of Asia."

Had No Hint

The GOP leader stressed that he had no hint that Eisenhower might be preparing to ask Congress for such approval. He said he was "speaking on his own responsibility."

Knowland said it was his feeling that the French and British are ready to give in to Communist pressure at the Geneva Conference, raising the possibility of what he termed a Far Eastern "Munich."

The Californian said he did not consider that Secretary of State Dulles failed at Geneva, but that Dulles has performed "a mission

Opposition to Mayor's Plan Not Council Matter

Perry Won't Submit Resolution or Assemble His Ward Signers Until Public Hearing

Alderman Samuel J. Perry (R), Fifth Ward, said this morning he does not intend to introduce his resolution at tonight's session of the Common Council opposing Mayor Stang's proposal to reclaim swampland in the Ponckhockie section.

Perry told a reporter for The Freeman that he intends to wait, by advice of counsel, for the mayor's public hearing to voice his opposition to the plan officially.

Has No Jurisdiction

Calling attention to the fact that the council has no jurisdiction in the matter, Perry said he was making the announcement to save signers of petitions the inconvenience of a trip to the city hall tonight.

"We'll all wait for the public hearing," he said, "and appear then to make our protests."

The alderman said he hoped his constituents would watch the press for announcement of the mayor's hearing.

Perry added that his attorney James G. Connelly, former corporation counsel, would be at the council meeting in case he needs advice.

The fifth ward alderman gave a story to The Freeman Saturday strongly opposing the land fill reclamation project in his ward, after Mayor Stang's announcement the previous day setting forth a plan to deposit refuse in swamp comprising 23 acres on the east side of North street and the south side of Delaware avenue.

Enumerates Reasons

Perry enumerated his reasons, which at the time he said he intended to introduce before the Common Council tonight.

Stang's proposal includes covering the debris with soil from the nearby brickyard area following the sanitary land fill methods used to reclaim Flushing Meadows for the World's Fair grounds and Block Park, a playground in the Seventh Ward.

Sees Action Valuable

In a statement yesterday, the mayor explained the area would not become just a dumping ground and added that it could become a

Houston Accepts Hempstead Church

St. James Pastor to Leave City End of June, Is Announcement

The Rev. Ralph M. Houston, D.D., who has served as pastor of St. James Methodist Church since 1950, will leave Kingston the latter part of June to accept an appointment to the Hempstead, L. I., Methodist Church. Announcement of the change was made last evening at the monthly meeting of the official board of the church.

Dr. Houston will be re-appointed to St. James Methodist Church at the annual session of the New York Conference which meets in New York Thursday and will transfer to the New York Eastern Conference the latter part of June when he takes charge of the Hempstead Methodist Church, New York Eastern Conference.

Prior to coming to St. James Methodist Church in 1950, Dr. Houston had served as superintendent of the New York District from 1945 through 1949. Prior to that he had been pastor at Trinity Methodist Church, Newburgh, from 1938 to 1943 and in 1944 served as superintendent of the Newburgh District. From 1926 through 1927 he was minister at Washington Square Methodist Church, New York city, and from 1928 through 1929 he was at Central Valley. In 1930 he was appointed to the First Methodist Church of Yonkers, serving until 1938 when he was appointed to Trinity Church in Newburgh.

Fairless Will Resign

Hoboken, N. J., May 4 (AP)—Benjamin F. Fairless will step down next year as board chairman of United States Steel Corp., the world's greatest steelmaking enterprise. Announcement of his pending retirement came as a surprise to many of the 574 stockholders attending the annual meeting of the corporation. The youthful-appearing Fairless said it was his birthday and he was "at peace with the world." Some stockholders began singing, "Happy Birthday to You." Fairless was 64 yesterday. U. S. Steel executives must retire at 65. After next year's annual meeting Fairless presumably will join former Chairmen Irving S. Olds and Myron C. Taylor as members of the board.

Esopus School Meeting

The annual meeting for School District No. 15, Town of Esopus, will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Sharp Mercury Drops Reported Following Storms

Great Lakes Region Has Below Freezing; North Rockies Area Is Warming

By The Associated Press

Most of the midwest shivered in freezing weather today as a mass of cool air spread over wide areas of the eastern half of the nation.

There were indications that some warming was on the way.

Showers and thunderstorms continued ahead of and near the leading edge of the cooler air which early today extended from central New York state southward along the eastern edge of the Alleghenies.

Temperatures were below freezing early today over most of the Great Lakes region. Snow flurries were reported in several areas.

Heaviest snowfalls over the weekend were in northern Minnesota, ranging from 6 to 12 inches.

Agreement On Methods Is Failure

Mundt Says His Group Explored Honorable Ways to End Fight; Welch Denies

Washington, May 4 (AP)—Efforts to confine the McCarthy-Army hearings to testimony by Sen. McCarthy and Secretary Stevens collapsed today. Chairman Mundt (R.-S.D.) announced the public inquiry would proceed as scheduled "to the bitter end."

Mundt said the subcommittee investigating the controversy had explored in closed meetings last night and today "every honorable way" to shorten the hearings, and rejected "every dishonorable way."

But he said all efforts to arbitrate the dispute and agree on a narrowing down of charges and witnesses had failed to bring agreement among all the parties concerned.

Mundt made his announcement after Sen. Dirksen (R.-Il.) had proposed that testimony be confined to the Secretary of the Army and Sen. McCarthy.

Taking Up Suggestion

Dirksen said he was taking up a suggestion made yesterday by Joseph N. Wech, special counsel for the Army in the scrap.

Welch said he would be content to rest his case with Stevens and McCarthy, and "at most" two more witnesses.

Today Welch intimated that his suggestion had been misconstrued.

He would insist, he said, on calling Roy M. Cohn, McCarthy committee counsel, and Francis P. Carr, McCarthy's staff director.

This brought a contention by McCarthy that Welch appeared to be "welshing" on his proposal of yesterday.

A few minutes earlier, Stevens had said he personally thought "every fact and every witness" should be brought out.

Welch told the committee that he had conferred with special committee counsel Ray H. Jenkins this morning and "we were unable to invent a magic formula for shortening the hearings."

Would Accept Proposal

McCarthy said he would accept the Dirksen proposal to end the hearings after Stevens' and McCarthy's testimony if it were

Cole Gives Informal Views On Three GOP Officials

New York, May 4 (AP)—Ashley T. Cole, state racing commission chairman, yesterday cleared up informally the status of three Republican party officials whose right to race horses at thoroughbred tracks was in doubt.

The doubt was raised by the new state law barring politicians from racing horses or having an interest in pari-mutuel tracks.

On the basis of a statement by Frederic H. Bontecou that he probably would quit as Dutchess county Republican chairman, the racing commission yesterday mailed him a renewal of his license to enter his horses at New York thoroughbred tracks.

Bontecou announced yesterday that he had tendered his resignation as a member of the Republican State Committee. However, Dean P. Taylor, Republican state chairman, said in Albany that he would not act on the resignation "until I can determine whether the law applies to a sportsman." He said that if he found it did not apply to a state committeeman he would ask Bontecou to reconsider.

Cole also ruled informally that it was unnecessary for John Hay (Jock) Whitney or Mrs. Ogden Phipps to resign from the United Republican Finance Committee to obtain renewal of their licenses to enter New York races.

Whitney and Mrs. Phipps are owners of thoroughbreds that race regularly at New York tracks. Whitney has been chairman of the United Republican Finance Committee since Feb. 3. Mrs. Phipps has been a member of the same group for a long time.

Cole said that the new law barring politicians from any interest in thoroughbreds or harness tracks did not include finance committee members among those prohibited from obtaining licenses.

Those who cannot obtain thoroughbred or harness licenses under the law are national committeemen, the chairman, vice chairman, secretary, treasurer or counsel of a state committee, a member of the executive committee of a state committee and corresponding officers of county committees, it was pointed out.

George P. Monaghan, state harness racing commissioner, said that under the new law he will not issue a harness racing license to State Sen. Fred J. Rath, of Utica, who has raced trotters and pacers throughout the state and who is a member of the United States Trotting Association.

Rath has served in the State Senate since 1950 and will be up for reelection next fall. He said he was "interested in having a good clean sport," had voted in favor of the new law and "if I can't race under the law, I won't race."

GOP, Not Democrats, Follow Great Presidents, Hall Says

Washington, May 4 (AP)—Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall claimed today that the GOP—not the Democratic party—is following in the footsteps of Thomas Jefferson and Andrew Jackson.

The Democratic party traces its roots and principles back to those two early 19th century U. S. presidents.

Noting that the "season of Jefferson-Jackson day celebrations is again upon you," Hall said in an open letter to Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell:

"We feel, regretfully, that the Democrat party during the past 20-odd years has somehow lost sight of certain basic Jeffersonian and Jacksonian tenets....the Republican party is proud to follow in their footsteps, particularly with respect to economy, lower taxes, decentralization and greater individual freedom."

Hall said Jefferson and Jackson both "would have supported wholeheartedly" the Eisenhower administration program "because it is one that engenders faith, not frustration."

And, said Hall, Jackson and Jefferson "shared with President Eisenhower his devotion to government economy, low taxes, and small federal debt."

The Republican chairman urged Mitchell to "re-examine the guiding precepts and principles" of Jefferson and Jackson, saying that such a review "may indicate where your party has strayed from the inspiring courses charted by these leaders."

Opposition to Mayor's Plan Not Council Matter

Perry Won't Submit Resolution or Assemble His Ward Signers Until Public Hearing

Alderman Samuel J. Perry (R), Fifth Ward, said this morning he does not intend to introduce his resolution at tonight's session of the Common Council opposing Mayor Stang's proposal to reclaim swampland in the Ponckhockie section.

Perry told a reporter for The Freeman that he intends to wait, by advice of counsel, for the mayor's public hearing to voice his opposition to the plan officially.

The fifth ward alderman gave a story to The Freeman Saturday strongly opposing the land fill reclamation project in his ward, after Mayor Stang's announcement the previous day setting forth a plan to deposit refuse in swamp comprising 23 acres on the east side of North street and the south side of Delaware avenue.

Enumerates Reasons

Perry enumerated his reasons, which at the time he said he intended to introduce before the Common Council tonight.

Stang's proposal includes covering the debris with soil from the nearby brickyard area following the sanitary land fill methods used to reclaim Flushing Meadows for the World's Fair grounds and Block Park, a playground in the Seventh Ward.

Fairless Will Resign

Hoboken, N. J., May 4 (AP)—Benjamin F. Fairless will step down next year as board chairman of United States Steel Corp., the world's greatest steelmaking enterprise. Announcement of his pending retirement came as a surprise to many of the 574 stockholders attending the annual meeting of the corporation. The youthful-appearing Fairless said it was his birthday and he was "at peace with the world." Some stockholders began singing, "Happy Birthday to You." Fairless was 64 yesterday. U. S. Steel executives must retire at 65. After next year's annual meeting Fairless presumably will join former Chairmen Irving S. Olds and Myron C. Taylor as members of the board.

Cole Gives Informal Views On Three GOP Officials

New York, May 4 (AP)—Ashley T. Cole, state racing commission chairman, yesterday cleared up informally the status of three Republican party officials whose right to race horses at thoroughbred tracks was in doubt.

The doubt was raised by the new state law barring politicians from racing horses or having an interest in pari-mutuel tracks.

On the basis of a statement by Frederic H. Bontecou that he probably would quit as Dutchess county Republican chairman, the racing commission yesterday mailed him a renewal of his license to enter his horses at New York thoroughbred tracks.

Bontecou announced yesterday that he had tendered his resignation as a member of the Republican State Committee. However, Dean P. Taylor, Republican state chairman, said in Albany that he would not act on the resignation "until I can determine whether the law applies to a sportsman." He said that if he found it did not apply to a state committeeman he would ask Bontecou to reconsider.

Cole also ruled informally that it was unnecessary for John Hay (Jock) Whitney or Mrs. Ogden Phipps to resign from the United Republican Finance Committee to obtain renewal of their licenses to enter New York races.

Whitney and Mrs. Phipps are owners of thoroughbreds that race regularly at New York tracks. Whitney has been chairman of the United Republican Finance Committee since Feb. 3. Mrs. Phipps has been a member of the same group for a long time.

Cole said that the new law barring politicians from any interest in thoroughbreds or harness tracks did not include finance committee members among those prohibited from obtaining licenses.

Those who cannot obtain thoroughbred or harness licenses under the law are national committeemen, the chairman, vice chairman, secretary, treasurer or counsel of a state committee, a member of the executive committee of a state committee and corresponding officers of county committees, it was pointed out.

George P. Monaghan, state harness racing commissioner, said that under the new law he will not issue a harness racing license to State Sen. Fred J. Rath, of Utica, who has raced trotters and pacers throughout the state and who is a member of the United States Trotting Association.

Rath has served in the State Senate since 1950 and will be up for reelection next fall. He said he was "interested in having a good clean sport," had voted in favor of the new law and "if I can't race under the law, I won't race."

GOP, Not Democrats, Follow Great Presidents, Hall Says

Washington, May 4 (AP)—Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall claimed today that the GOP—not the Democratic party—is following in the footsteps of Thomas Jefferson and Andrew Jackson.

The Democratic party traces its roots and principles back to those two early 19th century U. S. presidents.

Noting that the "season of Jefferson-Jackson day celebrations is again upon you," Hall said in an open letter to Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell:

"We feel, regretfully, that the Democrat party during the past 20-odd years has somehow lost sight of certain basic Jeffersonian and Jacksonian tenets....the Republican party is proud to follow in their footsteps, particularly with respect to economy, lower taxes, decentralization and greater individual freedom."

Hall said Jefferson and Jackson both "would have supported wholeheartedly" the Eisenhower administration program "because it is one that engenders faith, not frustration."

And, said Hall, Jackson and Jefferson "shared with President Eisenhower his devotion to government economy, low taxes, and small federal debt."

The Republican chairman urged Mitchell to "re-examine the guiding precepts and principles" of Jefferson and Jackson, saying that such a review "may indicate where your party has strayed from the inspiring courses charted by these leaders."

Three Democrats Assail Administration of Dewey

Rochester, May 4 (AP)—Three prime spokesmen for state Democrats whaled away at the Dewey Administration last night, calling it, among other things, the "worst government we've ever had" and the product of "sensational press agentry."

Tammany Leader Carmine G. De Sapio contended Gov. Dewey had spread a 'thick smog" to "camouflage" both his lack of constructive programs . . . and the malfeasance and corruption in his administration."

State Democratic Chairman Richard H. Balch said that Governor Dewey told the Legislature in 1946 that the state thruway "should be toll free," financed without bonds, and completed within five years from 1946. Balch said none of those things has been done.

State Democratic Chairman Richard H. Balch said the governor had broken his promises that the state thruway would be toll-free, financed without bonds, and completed within five years from 1946.

"The Dewey fanfare goes on," said Balch, "but the thruway is still not open to the public. . . . I think that in the present government of New York state, we have the worst government we've ever had."

New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner, the third speaker at a dinner of the Monroe Democratic Committee, said Dewey Administration tax policies were illustrative of "unadulterated discrimination" against his city.

Wagner said the five counties in New York city were the only ones in the state not receiving a share of state motor vehicle tax revenues.

He said New York was expected to provide "decent transit and traffic facilities," but the half-million commuters who use the city streets every day pay motor vehicle taxes only to the state.

Wagner said his city was in danger of being "destroyed by those who seek to make political

Equipment Will Be Sold at Auction

A newspaper press, job presses, typesetting machines and other printing equipment in the old Leader building will be sold at public auction on May 27 in a foreclosure action brought by Dr. Douw S. Meyers of Kingston against the New York Observer Corporation and other defendants.

The sale was described by a member attorney of the firm representing Meyers as a formality, to clear away some of the chattels which remained after mechanical and office equipment and stock of the New York Observer Corporation, then publishers of the Ulster County News-Leader was sold by Sheriff Cluett Schantz on Sept. 22, 1953, to satisfy a number of executions.

Subject to Liens

That sheriff's sale was made subject to liens against the property and no warranty was made as to title. Dr. Meyers at the time held approximately $20,000 in chattel mortgages against items in the inventory, by assignment, and his bid of $140 for the bulk was accepted.

The May 27 sale results from the foreclosure by Dr. Meyers, judgment of which was entered April 28 of this year in Supreme Court.

It is expected Dr. Meyers, who was publisher and president of the Leader Co., Inc., prior to transfer in May, 1951, of the plant to Chester M. Goldman, will submit a bulk bid. The sale this month is not expected to interfere with continued publication of the Kingston Ulster Press by its present publishers, Greene & Ulster Publishing, Inc. Orin Lehman, who is not named as a party in the present action, is the publisher.

Attorney John L. Larkin has been named referee for the May 27 sale, to be held at the Ulster County Court House in Kingston at 11 a. m.

Defendants Named

The action brought by Meyers names as defendants the New York Observer Corporation; Joseph Levine; Samuel M. Schultz; Crown Academy Building, Inc., formerly Leader Company; Greene County Printing Corporation, and the United States of America.

N. LeVan Haver is attorney for the plaintiff. Cashin & Ewig are attorneys for defendant Levine, and J. Edward Lumbard, U. S. Attorney for the Southern District is attorney for the defendant United States of America.

Items listed in the notice of sale include one flat bed duplex press, one Linotype machine, one Intertype machine, Ludlow with three type cases, three proof presses, Elrod caster, Kelly and Kluge presses, type cases, saws, galley racks, makeup tables, melting pot, full page caster, folder, stitcher, and other items.

Ladies Shun Legal Bingo for Big Jackpots

Newark, N. J., May 4 (AP)—New Jerseyans are passing up legal bingo games in the state and are traveling to illegal games in New York where prizes are bigger, The Newark Star-Ledger said today.

The New Jersey games, recently legalized, are restricted to charitable and church groups. There's a limit of $1,000 to a game.

Said The Star-Ledger:

New York's "underground" bingo operators offer jackpots up to $4,000, and buses pick up the New Jersey players—most of them elderly women—and take them to the games there.

The result of all this is that organizations now operating bingo in New Jersey find less than a third of the number of players than when the game was illegal. Many groups are considering dropping the games.

One sprightly lady of 73 was quoted by the newspaper:

"With the prizes they are giving here, I wouldn't go if they let me in for nothing."

Hot Kiln Blamed For Chimney Fire

Woodstock, May 4—Smoldering beams next to an extremely overheated chimney to the rear of the Catskill Book and Record Shop awoke the tenants of the building about 3 a. m., this morning as the Woodstock Fire Company No. 1, was called. Two engines responded and it was necessary for firemen to chop away considerable portions around the area of the chimney on the second floor.

The overheating of the chimney was caused by a large kiln in the studio of Frances Serder, ceramist, which it was judged by firemen to have reached the heat of 2,000 degrees. Although there was no damage to the Catskill Book and Record Shop, a small amount of water seeped through into the record department to the rear of the store.

Fire Chief George Haythorne estimated that between $500 and $1,000 damage had been done to the building. Haythorne was assisted by Eric Wiltz.

Strike Spreads To 2 More Plants

Workmen at the Alpha Portland Cement Company plant at Cementon and the North American Cement Corporation plant at Alsen have joined the striking workmen on the Lehigh Portland Cement Company at Alsen and cement production in that area has come to a halt.

The men went on strike after their contract had expired.

The strike of the cement workers also idled several hundred other workers who refused to cross the picket line thrown out by the cement workers. This included construction workers who are engaged in a large plant expansion program at North American.

Undisclosed Number Out

An undisclosed number of local men were also affected by the up-river strike, George E. Yerry, Jr., stated this morning at the local union office, including carpenters employed at the Lehigh plant and also laborers engaged on the thruway north of Catskill. Laborers north to Catskill are members of Local 17, not affected by the Albany strike.

Laborers north of Catskill are under the jurisdiction of the Albany local and painters and construction laborers are on strike in the Albany area, along with furniture store clerks, bakery workers and truck drivers, ldlying some 4,000 workers in the Albany area.

Laborers south of Catskill on the thruway were not affected by the Albany strike, it was stated. The Coxsackie school job also was being picketed.

It was reported there are approximately 125,000 barrels of cement at the Lehigh cement plant destined for the thruway job, but which cannot be delivered due to the strike. When this situation would halt pouring of cement on the thruway could not be learned.

Painters Monday set up picket lines in Albany, Greene and Columbia counties and are seeking a 17½ cents an hour wage increase.

Modesty Is Prescribed

White Plains, May 4 (AP)—Modesty in White Plains henceforth begins halfway between the hip and the knee. The City Council last night enacted an ordinance prescribing what kinds of attire persons over 16 may wear while strolling or shopping. White Plains has a population of about 46,000. Said sternly proper Mayor Edwin G. Michaelian: "This ordinance is not proposed frivolously. If you had seen some of the things we've seen downtown . . . costumes more appropriate to a beach—and a foreign beach at that." The new rule stipulates coverage "from the armpits to a point half-way between the hip line and the knee joint." That makes sun-back dresses and walking shorts still okay—but briefs? No, sir.

Housing Brings Divorces

The pollsters did not say how many West Germans were asked.

'Bitter End' Inquiry

clear that such action would not dismiss the charges he had made against H. Struve Hensel, assistant secretary of defense, and these charges possibly could be considered later.

Hensel's attorney, Frederick P. Bryan balked at McCarthy's suggestion.

It is Hensel's position, Bryan stated, "that there is nothing to those charges," and that they are not collateral to the issues.

Withdrawal of the charges "without a statement from Sen. McCarthy that he is in error is not acceptable to him," Bryan said in behalf of Hensel.

McCarthy retorted the charges were "not in error."

Mundt said those portions of the charges against Hensel involving his "guilt or innocence" in connection with organization of a navy supply firm in 1944 were "not properly before the committee."

There will be "no full scale investigation of the transactions in 1944," he stated.

capital of its difficulties."

De Sapio, a Democratic national committeeman, said Dewey tried to draw attention away from transit fare increases in New York city by making a "big howl about conditions on the waterfront." He said a bi-state agency set up by the governor "thus far has achieved the dubious accomplishment of having helped encourage a crippling strike."

De Sapio contended that when Republican leaders and members of the Dewey administration became involved in a "shocking track scandal," the governor "used the device of a friendly Moreland Commission to paint a heavy coat of whitewash over his administration."

"Now, when it appears evident that his Department of Correction, his State Liquor Authority, the Department of Insurance and other major branches of his administration are in need of careful study and show signs of serious malfeasance," De Sapio went on, "he emerges suddenly with a code of ethics, as if an adult public official shouldn't know right from wrong."

De Sapio accused the present state government of having a philosophy of administration . . . predicated upon sensational press agentry."

Two-Inch Rain Falls in 24 Hours

Nearly two inches of rain fell in the area in the past 24 hours.

New York city's Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity said this morning that its rain gauge at Brown Station, Ashokan Reservoir, recorded a total of 1.87 inches in the 24-hour period which ended at 8 a. m. today.

The upper Esopus Creek was reported high, but apparently safely below flood stage. The creek leveled off this morning at a gauge reading of seven and one-half feet at Cold Brook. Flood stage, which is variable, usually is considered approximately 11 feet.

In New York, the department announced that the city's water supply reservoirs reached 75.6 per cent of capacity on Monday, the highest point in more than eight months. This was still considered dangerously low for this season of the year as indicated by the fact that Water Commissioner Arthur C. Ford on Monday asked members of the Hotel Association to serve water at meals only to customers who asked for it. Compliance would have a psychological effect, he said, impressing on the people who had to ask for a glass of water that water was not to be wasted.

Equipment Will Be Sold at Auction

A newspaper press, job presses, typesetting machines and other printing equipment in the old Leader building will be sold at public auction on May 27 in a foreclosure action brought by Dr. Douw S. Meyers of Kingston against the New York Observer Corporation and other defendants.

The sale was described by a member attorney of the firm representing Meyers as a formality, to clear away some of the chattels which remained after mechanical and office equipment and stock of the New York Observer Corporation, then publishers of the Ulster County News-Leader was sold by Sheriff Cluett Schantz on Sept. 22, 1953, to satisfy a number of executions.

Subject to Liens

That sheriff's sale was made subject to liens against the property and no warranty was made as to title. Dr. Meyers at the time held approximately $20,000 in chattel mortgages against items in the inventory, by assignment, and his bid of $140 for the bulk was accepted.

The May 27 sale results from the foreclosure by Dr. Meyers, judgment of which was entered April 28 of this year in Supreme Court.

It is expected Dr. Meyers, who was publisher and president of the Leader Co., Inc., prior to transfer in May, 1951, of the plant to Chester M. Goldman, will submit a bulk bid. The sale this month is not expected to interfere with continued publication of the Kingston Ulster Press by its present publishers, Greene & Ulster Publishing, Inc. Orin Lehman, who is not named as a party in the present action, is the publisher.

Attorney John L. Larkin has been named referee for the May 27 sale, to be held at the Ulster County Court House in Kingston at 11 a. m.

Defendants Named

The action brought by Meyers names as defendants the New York Observer Corporation; Joseph Levine; Samuel M. Schultz; Crown Academy Building, Inc., formerly Leader Company; Greene County Printing Corporation, and the United States of America.

N. LeVan Haver is attorney for the plaintiff. Cashin & Ewig are attorneys for defendant Levine, and J. Edward Lumbard, U. S. Attorney for the Southern District is attorney for the defendant United States of America.

Items listed in the notice of sale include one flat bed duplex press, one Linotype machine, one Intertype machine, Ludlow with three type cases, three proof presses, Elrod caster, Kelly and Kluge presses, type cases, saws, galley racks, makeup tables, melting pot, full page caster, folder, stitcher, and other items.

Ladies Shun Legal Bingo for Big Jackpots

Newark, N. J., May 4 (AP)—New Jerseyans are passing up legal bingo games in the state and are traveling to illegal games in New York where prizes are bigger, The Newark Star-Ledger said today.

The New Jersey games, recently legalized, are restricted to charitable and church groups. There's a limit of $1,000 to a game.

Said The Star-Ledger:

New York's "underground" bingo operators offer jackpots up to $4,000, and buses pick up the New Jersey players—most of them elderly women—and take them to the games there.

The result of all this is that organizations now operating bingo in New Jersey find less than a third of the number of players than when the game was illegal. Many groups are considering dropping the games.

One sprightly lady of 73 was quoted by the newspaper:

"With the prizes they are giving here, I wouldn't go if they let me in for nothing."

Hot Kiln Blamed For Chimney Fire

Woodstock, May 4—Smoldering beams next to an extremely overheated chimney to the rear of the Catskill Book and Record Shop awoke the tenants of the building about 3 a. m., this morning as the Woodstock Fire Company No. 1, was called. Two engines responded and it was necessary for firemen to chop away considerable portions around the area of the chimney on the second floor.

The overheating of the chimney was caused by a large kiln in the studio of Frances Serder, ceramist, which it was judged by firemen to have reached the heat of 2,000 degrees. Although there was no damage to the Catskill Book and Record Shop, a small amount of water seeped through into the record department to the rear of the store.

Fire Chief George Haythorne estimated that between $500 and $1,000 damage had been done to the building. Haythorne was assisted by Eric Wiltz.

Strike Spreads To 2 More Plants

Workmen at the Alpha Portland Cement Company plant at Cementon and the North American Cement Corporation plant at Alsen have joined the striking workmen on the Lehigh Portland Cement Company at Alsen and cement production in that area has come to a halt.

The men went on strike after their contract had expired.

The strike of the cement workers also idled several hundred other workers who refused to cross the picket line thrown out by the cement workers. This included construction workers who are engaged in a large plant expansion program at North American.

Undisclosed Number Out

An undisclosed number of local men were also affected by the up-river strike, George E. Yerry, Jr., stated this morning at the local union office, including carpenters employed at the Lehigh plant and also laborers engaged on the thruway north of Catskill. Laborers north to Catskill are members of Local 17, not affected by the Albany strike.

Laborers north of Catskill are under the jurisdiction of the Albany local and painters and construction laborers are on strike in the Albany area, along with furniture store clerks, bakery workers and truck drivers, ldlying some 4,000 workers in the Albany area.

Laborers south of Catskill on the thruway were not affected by the Albany strike, it was stated. The Coxsackie school job also was being picketed.

It was reported there are approximately 125,000 barrels of cement at the Lehigh cement plant destined for the thruway job, but which cannot be delivered due to the strike. When this situation would halt pouring of cement on the thruway could not be learned.

Painters Monday set up picket lines in Albany, Greene and Columbia counties and are seeking a 17½ cents an hour wage increase.

Modesty Is Prescribed

White Plains, May 4 (AP)—Modesty in White Plains henceforth begins halfway between the hip and the knee. The City Council last night enacted an ordinance prescribing what kinds of attire persons over 16 may wear while strolling or shopping. White Plains has a population of about 46,000. Said sternly proper Mayor Edwin G. Michaelian: "This ordinance is not proposed frivolously. If you had seen some of the things we've seen downtown . . . costumes more appropriate to a beach—and a foreign beach at that." The new rule stipulates coverage "from the armpits to a point half-way between the hip line and the knee joint." That makes sun-back dresses and walking shorts still okay—but briefs? No, sir.

Housing Brings Divorces

Bonn, Germany, May 4 (AP)—It's not infidelity but a housing shortage that causes most West German divorces. The pollsters did not say how many West Germans were asked.

'Bitter End' Inquiry

clear that such action would not dismiss the charges he had made against H. Struve Hensel, assistant secretary of defense, and these charges possibly could be considered later.

Hensel's attorney, Frederick P. Bryan balked at McCarthy's suggestion.

It is Hensel's position, Bryan stated, "that there is nothing to those charges," and that they are not collateral to the issues.

Withdrawal of the charges "without a statement from Sen. McCarthy that he is in error is not acceptable to him," Bryan said in behalf of Hensel.

McCarthy retorted the charges were "not in error."

Mundt said those portions of the charges against Hensel involving his "guilt or innocence" in connection with organization of a navy supply firm in 1944 were "not properly before the committee."

There will be "no full scale investigation of the transactions in 1944," he stated.

Two-Inch Rain Falls in 24 Hours

Nearly two inches of rain fell in the area in the past 24 hours.

New York city's Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity said this morning that its rain gauge at Brown Station, Ashokan Reservoir, recorded a total of 1.87 inches in the 24-hour period which ended at 8 a. m. today.

The upper Esopus Creek was reported high, but apparently safely below flood stage. The creek leveled off this morning at a gauge reading of seven and one-half feet at Cold Brook. Flood stage, which is variable, usually is considered approximately 11 feet.

In New York, the department announced that the city's water supply reservoirs reached 75.6 per cent of capacity on Monday, the highest point in more than eight months. Religious Sermon Bring 5 Into Uptown Church

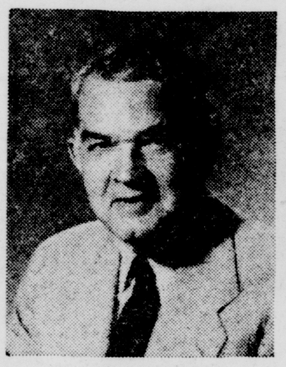
The revival campaign continues for its second week at First Assembly of God Church, 87 Fair street, where the religious messages of Miss Naomi Rice are reported to have brought five into the church by conversion.

Attendance at the nightly services has been increasing steadily, according to Rev. Robert R. Vinson, public relations representative for the church, who said of the Chambersburg, Pa., evangelist: "Her messages resemble the heart searching messages of the prophets of old."

The services every night, except Monday, start at 7:45 and the public is invited to attend.

At the equator, the average surface temperature of the oceans is about 80 degrees; near the poles, the water freezes at 28 degrees.

Speakers for Democrat Meeting



R. H. BALCH

ANGELA PARISI

Richard H. Balch and Angela Parisi, chairman and vice-chairman of the Democratic state committee, will discuss the coming gubernatorial election with Democratic women at the Governor Clinton Hotel in Kingston, Saturday, May 15.

Women from Ulster county and nearby areas will attend the event, called a Day of Political Education, which is first of its kind to be held in this region.

The active role that women will play in the campaign will be described by Miss Parisi, chairman of the Women's Division of the Democratic state committee.

The event is jointly sponsored by the Ulster County Democratic committee and a group of Democratic women representing various Ulster townships. Thomas Plunket, county chairman, and Mrs. Harriet Allen Kerr of New Paltz, general chairman of the women's committee, will also address the session.

A registration period at 11 a. m. in the Sun Room of the hotel will open the event. Mrs. Margaret E. W. Morris, New Paltz, is registration chairman.

Polio Rate Is Higher

New York, May 4 (AP)—The National Foundation for Infantile paralysis reports that polio cases in the nation were higher each week during the past four weeks than for corresponding weeks at any time on record. The foundation's director, Dr. Hart E. Van Riper, also said, yesterday that the 1,857 cases reported since the first of the year were 25 per cent more than for any corresponding period during the past five years.

Syphilis Tests Made on Convicts

Atlantic City, N. J., May 4 (AP)—Six University of North Carolina doctors report that some men who have had syphilis for a long time in the past develop an immunity to the venereal disease.

Dr. John C. Cutler told of the syphilis study in a paper read yesterday at the annual meeting here of the American Society for Clinical Investigation.

Cutler said 60 volunteers from Sing Sing Prison were injected with live syphilis germs in an experiment to find out whether immunity to syphilis can be developed.

Of the 60 men injected with the germs, some had never had the disease, others had had it and been cured shortly after it developed and others had been cured of long-lasting, or "late latent," syphilis.

Results showed that a prior infection with the disease produced immunity only when the ailment lasted as long as in the case of late latent syphilis.

Gave No Estimate

Cutler gave no estimate of how long such "latent" cases lasted.

Cutler said his group of researchers undertook the experiment in hopes it would lead to development of a vaccine for use against spread of the disease from the two million untreated cases in the United States at present.

With this goal in mind, the six doctors injected dead syphilis germs in some prisoners in an effort to stimulate the body's disease protection mechanisms.

But the protective effects of injecting dead germs were too slight to be of practical value, Cutler said.

The other researchers were Drs. Lopo De Mello, Bernard I. Kaplan, Harold J. Magnuson, Sidney Olansky and Evan W. Thomas.

The Men's Club of the Fair Street Reformed Church will sponsor a minstrel show at the parish room of the church on Wednesday and Thursday, May 26 and 27. Edward F. Dingeldey is chairman of the committee. Tickets are available from members of the club.

FREE BUS FARES?

Are subsidized transit fares—free rides to the commercial districts of large cities—the answer to the problem of traffic congestion? This is the question that the people of San Francisco are now debating.

The major transportation company in San Francsco, like those in most other cities, recently boosted its suburban fares. The result was a drop in patronage, which forced the company to abandon part of its service. But the drop in patronage also means that fewer and fewer people are doing their shopping in San Francisco's commercial districts. Consequently, many stores are now thinking in terms of moving to suburban shopping centers, which in turn would mean loss of tax revenue for the city.

At this point the proposal to subsidize the bus fares enters the picture. Proponents argue that landlords are willing to provide elevator service in their buildings without charge, realizing that they can write off the costs in higher rents. If building owners are willing to provide free vertical transportation, it is argued, why shouldn't they be willing to underwrite the costs of free horizontal transportation, thus saving their real estate values?

This may be a drastic proposal, but it is not one to be causally dismissed. A serious effort must be made to maintain the value of the downtown district in San Francisco and every other city, lest the tax structure of every major community in this country be wrecked. Free bus fares may be one way of easing the stranglehold that traffic congestion has imposed on American cities.

BAD COMIC BOOKS

A Senate subcommittee is investigating the problem of undesirable comic books and the connection such publications may have with juvenile delinquency. It is difficult to see how anyone can deny that there is a connection even though it is possible to disagree over what should be done about it.

Comic book publishers take the point of view that they should police their own industry. This is a worthy point of view and only one fault can be found with it. While some comic book publishers maintain standards of decency and good taste, others have demonstrated a singular disregard for any standards. Good and bad comic books are on sale at the same stands and too often only the immature judgment of young readers decides which will be bought and read.

Comic books alone do not cause juvenile delinquency. They are a factor however, and it is right that we should concern ourselves about how to deal with them. Perhaps the most effective way is for parents to keep in touch with what their youngsters are reading and to make every effort to be sure that their children are buying and reading only wholesome books.

One of the interesting aspects of growing older is that you never know you're doing it until you've done it.

WHAT WE CAN DO

These are troubled times indeed and it often seems that ordinary people can do little that will make the world a better, more peaceful place to live in. Few of us ever have the opportunity of actually doing anything about problems of international harmony and good will.

But we do have a chance to make the world better by working at our own level of existence, in our homes, our neighborhoods and at our jobs. It is true that an act of friendship for a person across the street from us will not directly affect the relations of America with people who live thousands of miles away. But unless we are able to establish friendship and understanding with those who are close to us it will never be possible for us to understand or feel affection for those who live in strange lands.

By a diligent application of the faiths we profess to our everyday living we can help to make better the minute corner of the world in which we live. In the final analysis the world is the sum of all its small parts.

It is true that we cannot be held directly responsible for the great and far-reaching events. But we are all responsible for at least a part of what goes on around us. By making sure that our actions are good we can do more than we may realize to make sure that goodness will triumph in the world.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

A QUESTION OF MORALS

Mr. Jerry H. Simpson, Jr., a reader of this column in the "Washington Post and Times Herald," poses a profoundly important question anent the Oppenheimer Case and the relationship of a scientist to his government and his conscience:

"The question you raise is more theological than political, and is, I believe, essentially this: If a man contracts to utilize his capacities in behalf of a government program, and discovers, or decides, that the program is immoral (as you state), is he still morally bound to his contract? Or, to put it another way, does a man's duty to country take precedence over his duty to God? This is, perhaps, an oversimplification, but the principle, I think, obtains. Your own statement of it is whether 'private opinion ought to prevail over Government decisions when a conflict of view appeared.' It is certainly a question not easily answered."

Truly, it is a theological question as are most of the fundamentals in life. Men live by what they believe to be true. The Marxist believes to be true that man is a product of his environment, of the tools he uses to earn a living; that morals are determined by environmental conditions, are comparative according to the times, to historic necessity. Those who abide by the Judaic-Christian interpretation of Natural Law believe that the morality of man is a revelation from God and that there are absolutes from which man can depart only at his eternal peril.

Furthermore—and this may be the essence of the problem—man possesses free will, freedom of choice. He can do good, but he also can do evil; he can be right by will and he can be wrong by will. He can choose his course, take his risk, receive the benefits or the damages for his conduct.

Applied to the scientists who demand freedom of conscience, each one of them has the right to accept an invitation to work for the Government or to refuse to work for the Government. None of them has been drafted into Government work. Even a draftee may plead a conscientious objection. A scientist who accepted a Government appointment was never imprisoned; nothing could prevent him from resigning and stating his reason for resigning privately or publicly—publicly only if he did not disclose what was not his right to disclose under the law.

However, it is not an individual scientist's prerogative, while continuing to work for the Government of the United States, to attempt, directly or indirectly, to alter a policy of Government determined by Congress and other duly constituted authorities. There may be arguments in advance of decision and a citizen may disagree with the decision after it is taken, and he may vote against the Government in an election. But a Government employe has no right to stay on the job and sabotage his employer's decision. There is no reason why a scientist is different from anybody else.

It would seem to be that that is the issue in the Oppenheimer Case, in the Fort Monmouth Case, in the various Los Alamos espionage cases. I heard a distinguished gentleman explain away errors of judgment that could involve security risks or even espionage make the point, in a sort of boys-will-be-boys manner, that we all swiped watermelons in our childhood. Some parents paddled their children for swiping anything.

That explanation is not good enough. We have all made mistakes. Maybe I made one when I went to lunch with Senator McCarthy and Secretary of the Army Stevens and found myself in a miniature conference on what to do with the Army investigation. Maybe, I would have done better to remain at the Park Lane Hotel where my friends do not keep notes of private conversation. But I went to the McCarthy-Stevens lunch and the risk of such associations is mine. It cannot be transferred to the proclivities of youngsters to swipe watermelons.

Individual judgment and opinion are inalienable rights in our society, and conformity is a stultification of mind and the spirit. But employment involves its own responsibility which morally binds the individual to his employer as long as he holds the job. This is too often forgotten in these days of loose morals and both public and private irresponsibility.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

CORTISONE, THE WONDER DRUG

Despite the fact that many physicians find that in many cases cortisone relieves the pain of arthritis within a short time, there are other physicians who do not get these gratifying results.

In the Journal of Investigative Dermatology, Baltimore, Dr. T. Cornbleet, the noted clinical research physician, tells of his experience with cortisone, the wonder drug as it is called. Dr. Cornbleet found that a drop (1/20 cc.; 1.25 mg.) of ordinary commercial suspension of cortisone or hydrocortisone incorporated with an injectable medicament allays immediate pain. Control injections with the suspending fluids for cortisone and hydrocortisone were of little help and procaine solutions used with painful materials did not allay pain. However, if an anesthetic was used before the use of the medicament, this prevented the pain but required two injections.

"The analgesic action of cortisone must be some mechanism other than that of ordinary local anesthetics. It may perhaps prevent formation of or neutralize intermediate noxious materials such as histamine-like agents. This would seem to be the case because cortisone abolishes flare in the skin at the site of the injection. Another possibility is that the cortisone shields the sensory (nerve) endings against the effects of injury."

Dr. Cornbleet feels that if others will corroborate the results he obtained, pharmacists might want to include the corticoids (drugs with adrenal action) with such painful medicaments as thiamine hydrochloride and crude liver extract.

It is indeed unfortunate but not strange that this wonder drug acts so differently in so many cases. Thus we know of cases in which cortisone gives instant relief, particularly in cases of painful shoulder, and in others no relief from pain is obtained.

Physicians have learned that cortisone helps about half the cases in which it is used. They have also learned that if the first few doses of cortisone do not give relief it is useless to continue the injections. Other physicians have learned that the patient obtains relief from pain as long as the cortisone continues to be used but the pain returns when the administration of cortisone is discontinued.

That cortisone allays pain in other conditions is reported by practicing physicians; in fact, they have found that the results in some cases can be truthfully called "miraculous." These cases include ordinary strains and sprains where in some cases results are obtained that are as effective as morphine.

Physicians have found cortisone to be truly a wonder drug and we will learn more about it as time passes.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington, (NEA) — What comes out of the Geneva conference on peace in Indo-China is now analyzed in Washington as being more dependent on how France holds up on the home front than on the battle front.

One of the greatest problems for the American and British delegations at Geneva is to keep the French spirit bucked up. The principal argument they have to offer is that even the loss of Dien Bien Phu would not mean the loss of the war against the Communists.

This is a battle for an isolated crossroad in a river valley. It is not even a full-division operation, on either side. Under preairage warfare, Dien Bien Phu would have fallen long ago. It has been kept going only by air supply.

* * *

As Admiral Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, has pointed out, the military loss of Dien Bien Phu would involve only a small percentage of French Union forces.

Fortunately, there is believed to be less indication that the French Union and Viet Namese troops in Indo-China are ready to collapse than the bulletins from Geneva would seem to indicate. The troops will apparently fight on until the French government home fronts in Paris and Geneva give way behind them.

France's great trouble is making up its mind about Indo-China is regarded as a fear of the effect any settlement in that part of the world will have on the French position in North Africa. If France could pull out of Indo-China without losing Morocco and Tunisia, it would probably do so.

One stabilizing ray of hope for southeast Asia is seen in the last-minute French grant of full independence to the Indo-Chinese native states of Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia. It may have come too late to do any good. But French promises to make no settlement with the Communists that is not acceptable to the native Indo-Chinese governments is considered a good sign.

* * *

Emperor Bao Dai has so far declared that he will make no settlement that will partition his country. This should effectively stop any proposals to cut Indo-China in two at the 16th parallel, giving the northern half with its rich rice bowl to the Communists.

Almost any of the suggested settlements must be considered superior to the idea of splitting Indo-China, as Korea was split. Among other proposals to be considered at Geneva are these:

Indian Prime Minister Nehru's plea of last February for an unconditional cease-fire, with both sides in Indo-China retaining their present military positions. "Once you start arguing about condition," said Nehru, "there is no end."

French Premier Joseph Laniel agreed to accept such a cease-fire in March, provided there was adequate guarantee of safety for French troops. He later specified that the Communists must evacuate the Tonkin Delta, Laos and Cambodia and lay down arms in south Viet Nam.

The French and Russian proposals for immediately convening at Geneva a conference of up to 15 powers to negotiate a southeast Asian settlement. This has been given considerable support by President Eisenhower's speech to the U. S. Chamber of Commerce. He expressed hope for peaceful settlement.

* * *

The Cambodian independent appeal to the United Nations to stop Communist aggression is given no chance. None of the major powers is willing to back it. Russia would veto it in the Security Council.

As a long-shot possibility to build up a Pacific alliance to resist communism, we must not overlook the Indonesian proposal for an all-Asian conference to be held in Jakarta in August.

This would bring in India, Pakistan, Burma and the Arab countries in the Middle East. It would probably leave out the British, French and Dutch, as colonial powers.

It would also probably leave out the present governments of Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos. They are considered French puppets and not true representatives of independent nationalist aspirations in Indo-China.

The main point stressed by the south Asia countries is that there can be no effective resistance to communism in this area unless it is based on true nationalism, free from all western domination.

Complete Reappraisal of U. S. Policies Seems Ahead, Due to Some Overestimates

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Geneva, May 4—A complete reappraisal of the policies of the United States in the world would seem to be in the offing. Whether one likes it or not, the fact is there has been an overestimate of the capacity of Great Britain and France to support the United States in Asia. There may even have been an overestimate of what these two nations can do to defend Europe.

So far as land armies are concerned, Soviet Russia and Red China have more manpower under arms in Asia than the Free World has assembled. So far as Europe is concerned, despite the new weapons and the "new look" in American military planning, it is a question whether London and Paris have any real confidence in their own defense setup. This may be the reason why Prime Minister Churchill has begun to deliver speeches about making peace with Moscow despite what he calls "the perils and contradictions" of such a move.

America faces the unhappy fact that England is no longer master of the big empire and that France's empire is crumbling or being nibbled away by insurrections in Indo-China and anti-colonialism propoganda in Tunisia and Morocco. Small wonder that France worries about her inability to go it alone in Indo-China and that Defense Minister Alexander of Great Britain complains that British military forces are scattered too far over the world and should be brought back to protect the home front.

This is not a time for partisan needling in the United States nor for such defeatist comments as have come from the Democratic National Chairman Mitchell, who speaks about Dulles attending "his own funeral at Geneva." This is a time so much more serious for the future of America than the politics-as-usual behavior of some of our public men would indicate that real patriotism at the moment requires some concerted action by the leaders of both parties to reassert America's unwavering opposition to the march of Communist aggressors and to the increasing infiltration by Moscow's fifth columns all over the world.

Secretary of State Dulles has kept the leaders of Congress informed right along, and it is regrettable that so often members of Congress publicly claim there have been no bipartisan consultations just because every detail of a confidential nature has not been passed along for loose talking on Capitol Hill. The essentials of America's desperate effort to form a deterrent force in Southeast Asia have been known to leaders of both parties for several weeks, but it has not been desirable to make public statements about the delicate situation in which France has been involved in Indo-China. Unhappily, some members of Congress have oversimplified the situation as being a case merely of sending American boys to a far-off war in Indo-China. Actually, what is involved is a major plan to save Southeast Asia by timely steps now rather than to permit an inescapable situation to develop. For if the Soviets should misconstrue our position as one of weakness, it might lead to overt acts by the Communists that could bring on World War Three overnight.

If the big war is to be prevented, vast military forces have to be reassembled in the world under the leadership of the United States. There must be a search for more allies, especially in Asia. The acid test is whether, under the leadership of an unselfish, noncolonial nation like the United States, the peoples of Asia who claim they want freedom are willing to fight to retain it when they have been given independence. America is quite willing to supply arms but does not feel obliged to send armies, believing instead that Asians must defend Asia. American military missions would be furnished and a training corps of commissioned and non-commissioned American officers, such as General Van Fleet utilized so successfully in Greece, would be brought into the picture again if the native authorities enlisted the necessary manpower. There is no reason why America cannot obtain allies in Asia instead of trying to depend on the troops of European allies.

So far as Europe is concerned, America may have to reconsider also how many of her troops she can keep in Europe if the proper proportions of allied troops are not recruited there to supplement the considerable American manpower already on hand. If the world isn't going to approve the use of the atom bombs, then ground armies become more important than ever before, especially in local wars. A new look at the whole world situation, politically and militarily, seems inevitable.

That's the Time!

Omaha (AP) — Military habits are hard to shake. A visiting Army officer found a note in his hotel box to "Call Mr. Smith AT 0300." Not acquainted with Omaha teelphone exchanges (AT stands for Atlantic), he interpreted the message in military language as meaning to call at 0300 hours — or 3 a. m. So he called Mr. Smith at 3 a. m.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, May 3—For the solace of hypersensitive souls who shrivel because the McCarthy show is humiliating our beloved country in the eyes of the English, the French and the Russians, I can offer eye-witness testimony on the mother of parliaments and the French National Assembly and common knowledge on the legislative arm of the Russian state.

The British House of Commons is a disorderly, loutish disgrace, the French Parliament always has been a riotous, incoherent mob and the Russian Legislature is merely a phase, not an arm or branch, of the most brutal power in the history of man's attempt to govern himself.

I will entertain no exceptions to this last estimate because the Germans under Hitler did maintain, always at great risk, a core, though not a corps, of decent human beings who loathed the foul regime. Late in the war, as we later learned, these people tried to get Roosevelt and Churchill to help them knock off the Fuehrer and save their country from the fate to which Eisenhower doomed it by his dumb submission to the decision of God-knows-who to pull back the conquering armies of western Christendom 100 miles from the Elbe. There is no such element in Russia. There was, but Lenin, Trotsky and Stalin massacred them all.

In the House of Commons, the members in the front row near the speaker habitually put their feet up on the table which is the repository of the symbolic mace, and the House, as a whole, has a habit of going nuts on small provocation and heckling and barracking like a lot of loafers around a windjammer's ladder at Hyde Park corner. Their proceedings at other times are tedious rather than dignified and the members are utterly servile to their respective political parties. This amounts to a government by party caucus and a Marxist party constitutes the loyal opposition under the false name of the Labor party. There are always a few decent, intellectual, gentlemanly M. P.'s in a given parliament, but their proportion is declining and the swine are much more numerous, vulgar, demagogic, ignorant and shallow than their opposite numbers on Capitol Hill.

Incidentally, we have a careless habit of deceiving ourselves about the qualities of American public men whom we dislike, or like. Huey Long was actually a brilliant though unscrupulous statesman and I am one of those who now mourn his removal on the ground of untimeliness because, had Huey lived, he would have frustrated Roosevelt and we would have been spared the Communist treachery, in exchange for horrors that we cannot ever know the nature of.

Senator Bricker, of Ohio, is giving better service than we deserve from a man so ill-rewarded. And Bob Taft, rejected even by regular Republicans as a man who wouldn't "fight," showed high courage in opposing the Nurnberg proposition and fighting the CIO in Ohio. By contrast, Dwight D. Eisenhower not only failed civilization at the Elbe but showed the same lack of something that has got to be born in a man when, at the first news of Dick Nixon's political fund, instead of bellowing his absolute faith, he told reporters Nixon would have to "come clean as a hound's tooth."

And Joe McCarthy, depicted as a thug, has been put to torture in the worst bear-baiting since the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann.

To get along to the French Parliament, have you ever seen that aggregation of hysterical bums in action? I have—not the present device, which is no different, but the old Chamber of Deputies—and it was a frantic rabble of incoherent, double-crossing Simian nonentities.

Look back at history for proof of their absolute incompetence and a guilt worse than mere futility and be assured, on performance to date, the new Parliament is no improvement. I incline to the idea that the French are simply incapable of self-government. But the truth may be that they could do a passable job if they would pay taxes and support their government because such a situation might attract decent men to parliamentary work.

But such speculation does not impair the fact that the American Congress is incomparably superior and that the Dave Schine case is amassing a great net profit to our people. Because, farcical as it all seems, it will presently dawn on us that the Army was getting a rotten deal from the civilian managers of the old War Department and the present Department of the Army. It will dawn on us that Eisenhower and his Palace Guard of New Dealers tried to conceal proof of treachery where absolute loyalty has always been a holy tradition.

This idiotic row, which is said to embarrass us in the eyes of the British, was kicked up at the White House for the sole purpose of holding back the name of the one person who authorized the promotion and the honorable discharge of one army dentist.

When it is all over, McCarthy and Roy Cohn will get that name. While they are at it, they ought to learn the name and rank of the officer who authorized the shipment of Elliott Roosevelt's maneating mutt from Washington to Los Angeles on an army plane in space taken from a homing soldier. That was a flagrant, willful violation of a lawful order issued in writing, but the case was smothered because, with the exception of Johnny, who has been called the white sheep of the family, the other Roosevelts had no better ethics or livelier conscience than the old woman.

So the British are going to think the less of us, are they? Well, how would you like a television view of a female M.P. with the build of a hippopotamus threatening to beat up one of her honorable colleagues on the claim that same had taken a kick at her as happened the last time I was there?

I am one of many who couldn't care less what the British public thinks of McCarthy and of us for turning him loose, and that goes double for the man who sent the Black and Tans to Ireland, Sir Winston Churchill. At least, we are making an effort to expose the treason whereas the worst traitor of them all was sent here by Great Britain, which ultimately gave him less time in jail than they ordinarily give a mildewed drunk for spitting in another derelict's beer.

FREE BUS FARES?

Are subsidized transit fares—free rides to the commercial districts of large cities—the answer to the problem of traffic congestion? This is the question that the people of San Francisco are now debating.

The major transportation company in San Francsco, like those in most other cities, recently boosted its suburban fares. The result was a drop in patronage, which forced the company to abandon part of its service. But the drop in patronage also means that fewer and fewer people are doing their shopping in San Francisco's commercial districts. Consequently, many stores are now thinking in terms of moving to suburban shopping centers, which in turn would mean loss of tax revenue for the city.

At this point the proposal to subsidize the bus fares enters the picture. Proponents argue that landlords are willing to provide elevator service in their buildings without charge, realizing that they can write off the costs in higher rents. If building owners are willing to provide free vertical transportation, it is argued, why shouldn't they be willing to underwrite the costs of free horizontal transportation, thus saving their real estate values?

This may be a drastic proposal, but it is not one to be causally dismissed. A serious effort must be made to maintain the value of the downtown district in San Francisco and every other city, lest the tax structure of every major community in this country be wrecked. Free bus fares may be one way of easing the stranglehold that traffic congestion has imposed on American cities.

BAD COMIC BOOKS

A Senate subcommittee is investigating the problem of undesirable comic books and the connection such publications may have with juvenile delinquency. It is difficult to see how anyone can deny that there is a connection even though it is possible to disagree over what should be done about it.

Comic book publishers take the point of view that they should police their own industry. This is a worthy point of view and only one fault can be found with it. While some comic book publishers maintain standards of decency and good taste, others have demonstrated a singular disregard for any standards. Good and bad comic books are on sale at the same stands and too often only the immature judgment of young readers decides which will be bought and read.

Comic books alone do not cause juvenile delinquency. They are a factor however, and it is right that we should concern ourselves about how to deal with them. Perhaps the most effective way is for parents to keep in touch with what their youngsters are reading and to make every effort to be sure that their children are buying and reading only wholesome books.

One of the interesting aspects of growing older is that you never know you're doing it until you've done it.

WHAT WE CAN DO

These are troubled times indeed and it often seems that ordinary people can do little that will make the world a better, more peaceful place to live in. Few of us ever have the opportunity of actually doing anything about problems of international harmony and good will.

But we do have a chance to make the world better by working at our own level of existence, in our homes, our neighborhoods and at our jobs. It is true that an act of friendship for a person across the street from us will not directly affect the relations of America with people who live thousands of miles away. But unless we are able to establish friendship and understanding with those who are close to us it will never be possible for us to understand or feel affection for those who live in strange lands.

By a diligent application of the faiths we profess to our everyday living we can help to make better the minute corner of the world in which we live. In the final analysis the world is the sum of all its small parts.

It is true that we cannot be held directly responsible for the great and far-reaching events. But we are all responsible for at least a part of what goes on around us. By making sure that our actions are good we can do more than we may realize to make sure that goodness will triumph in the world.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

A QUESTION OF MORALS

Mr. Jerry H. Simpson, Jr., a reader of this column in the "Washington Post and Times Herald," poses a profoundly important question anent the Oppenheimer Case and the relationship of a scientist to his government and his conscience:

"The question you raise is more theological than political, and is, I believe, essentially this: If a man contracts to utilize his capacities in behalf of a government program, and discovers, or decides, that the program is immoral (as you state), is he still morally bound to his contract? Or, to put it another way, does a man's duty to country take precedence over his duty to God? This is, perhaps, an oversimplification, but the principle, I think, obtains. Your own statement of it is whether 'private opinion ought to prevail over Government decisions when a conflict of view appeared.' It is certainly a question not easily answered."

Truly, it is a theological question as are most of the fundamentals in life. Men live by what they believe to be true. The Marxist believes to be true that man is a product of his environment, of the tools he uses to earn a living; that morals are determined by environmental conditions, are comparative according to the times, to historic necessity. Those who abide by the Judaic-Christian interpretation of Natural Law believe that the morality of man is a revelation from God and that there are absolutes from which man can depart only at his eternal peril.

Furthermore—and this may be the essence of the problem—man possesses free will, freedom of choice. He can do good, but he also can do evil; he can be right by will and he can be wrong by will. He can choose his course, take his risk, receive the benefits or the damages for his conduct.

Applied to the scientists who demand freedom of conscience, each one of them has the right to accept an invitation to work for the Government or to refuse to work for the Government. None of them has been drafted into Government work. Even a draftee may plead a conscientious objection. A scientist who accepted a Government appointment was never imprisoned; nothing could prevent him from resigning and stating his reason for resigning privately or publicly—publicly only if he did not disclose what was not his right to disclose under the law.

However, it is not an individual scientist's prerogative, while continuing to work for the Government of the United States, to attempt, directly or indirectly, to alter a policy of Government determined by Congress and other duly constituted authorities. There may be arguments in advance of decision and a citizen may disagree with the decision after it is taken, and he may vote against the Government in an election. But a Government employe has no right to stay on the job and sabotage his employer's decision. There is no reason why a scientist is different from anybody else.

It would seem to be that that is the issue in the Oppenheimer Case, in the Fort Monmouth Case, in the various Los Alamos espionage cases. I heard a distinguished gentleman explain away errors of judgment that could involve security risks or even espionage make the point, in a sort of boys-will-be-boys manner, that we all swiped watermelons in our childhood. Some parents paddled their children for swiping anything.

That explanation is not good enough. We have all made mistakes. Maybe I made one when I went to lunch with Senator McCarthy and Secretary of the Army Stevens and found myself in a miniature conference on what to do with the Army investigation. Maybe, I would have done better to remain at the Park Lane Hotel where my friends do not keep notes of private conversation. But I went to the McCarthy-Stevens lunch and the risk of such associations is mine. It cannot be transferred to the proclivities of youngsters to swipe watermelons.

Individual judgment and opinion are inalienable rights in our society, and conformity is a stultification of mind and the spirit. But employment involves its own responsibility which morally binds the individual to his employer as long as he holds the job. This is too often forgotten in these days of loose morals and both public and private irresponsibility.

CORTISONE, THE WONDER DRUG

Despite the fact that many physicians find that in many cases cortisone relieves the pain of arthritis within a short time, there are other physicians who do not get these gratifying results.

In the Journal of Investigative Dermatology, Baltimore, Dr. T. Cornbleet, the noted clinical research physician, tells of his experience with cortisone, the wonder drug as it is called. Dr. Cornbleet found that a drop (1/20 cc.; 1.25 mg.) of ordinary commercial suspension of cortisone or hydrocortisone incorporated with an injectable medicament allays immediate pain. Control injections with the suspending fluids for cortisone and hydrocortisone were of little help and procaine solutions used with painful materials did not allay pain. However, if an anesthetic was used before the use of the medicament, this prevented the pain but required two injections.

"The analgesic action of cortisone must be some mechanism other than that of ordinary local anesthetics. It may perhaps prevent formation of or neutralize intermediate noxious materials such as histamine-like agents. This would seem to be the case because cortisone abolishes flare in the skin at the site of the injection. Another possibility is that the cortisone shields the sensory (nerve) endings against the effects of injury."

Dr. Cornbleet feels that if others will corroborate the results he obtained, pharmacists might want to include the corticoids (drugs with adrenal action) with such painful medicaments as thiamine hydrochloride and crude liver extract.

It is indeed unfortunate but not strange that this wonder drug acts so differently in so many cases. Thus we know of cases in which cortisone gives instant relief, particularly in cases of painful shoulder, and in others no relief from pain is obtained.

Physicians have learned that cortisone helps about half the cases in which it is used. They have also learned that if the first few doses of cortisone do not give relief it is useless to continue the injections. Other physicians have learned that the patient obtains relief from pain as long as the cortisone continues to be used but the pain returns when the administration of cortisone is discontinued.

That cortisone allays pain in other conditions is reported by practicing physicians; in fact, they have found that the results in some cases can be truthfully called "miraculous." These cases include ordinary strains and sprains where in some cases results are obtained that are as effective as morphine.

Physicians have found cortisone to be truly a wonder drug and we will learn more about it as time passes.

Actually, what is involved is a major plan to save Southeast Asia by timely steps now rather than to permit an inescapable situation to develop. For if the Soviets should misconstrue our position as one of weakness, it might lead to overt acts by the Communists that could bring on World War Three overnight.

If the big war is to be prevented, vast military forces have to be reassembled in the world under the leadership of the United States. There must be a search for more allies, especially in Asia. The acid test is whether, under the leadership of an unselfish, non-colonial nation like the United States, the peoples of Asia who claim they want freedom are willing to fight to retain it when they have been given independence. America is quite willing to supply arms but does not feel obliged to send armies, believing instead that Asians must defend Asia. American military missions would be furnished and a training corps of commissioned and non-commissioned American officers, such as General Van Fleet utilized so successfully in Greece, would be brought into the picture again if the native authorities enlisted the necessary manpower. There is no reason why America cannot obtain allies in Asia instead of trying to depend on the troops of European allies.

So far as Europe is concerned, America may have to reconsider also how many of her troops she can keep in Europe if the proper proportions of allied troops are not recruited there to supplement the considerable American manpower already on hand. If the world isn't going to approve the use of the atom bombs, then ground armies become more important than ever before, especially in local wars. A new look at the whole world situation, politically and militarily, seems inevitable.

That's the Time!

Omaha (AP) — Military habits are hard to shake. A visiting Army officer found a note in his hotel box to "Call Mr. Smith AT 0300." Not acquainted with Omaha teelphone exchanges (AT stands for Atlantic), he interpreted the message in military language as meaning to call at 0300 hours — or 3 a. m. So he called Mr. Smith at 3 a. m.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, May 3—For the solace of hypersensitive souls who shrivel because the McCarthy show is humiliating our beloved country in the eyes of the English, the French and the Russians, I can offer eye-witness testimony on the mother of parliaments and the French National Assembly and common knowledge on the legislative arm of the Russian state.

The British House of Commons is a disorderly, loutish disgrace, the French Parliament always has been a riotous, incoherent mob and the Russian Legislature is merely a phase, not an arm or branch, of the most brutal power in the history of man's attempt to govern himself.

I will entertain no exceptions to this last estimate because the Germans under Hitler did maintain, always at great risk, a core, though not a corps, of decent human beings who loathed the foul regime. Late in the war, as we later learned, these people tried to get Roosevelt and Churchill to help them knock off the Fuehrer and save their country from the fate to which Eisenhower doomed it by his dumb submission to the decision of God-knows-who to pull back the conquering armies of western Christendom 100 miles from the Elbe. There is no such element in Russia. There was, but Lenin, Trotsky and Stalin massacred them all.

In the House of Commons, the members in the front row near the speaker habitually put their feet up on the table which is the repository of the symbolic mace, and the House, as a whole, has a habit of going nuts on small provocation and heckling and barracking like a lot of loafers around a windjammer's ladder at Hyde Park corner. Their proceedings at other times are tedious rather than dignified and the members are utterly servile to their respective political parties. This amounts to a government by party caucus and a Marxist party constitutes the loyal opposition under the false name of the Labor party. There are always a few decent, intellectual, gentlemanly M. P.'s in a given parliament, but their proportion is declining and the swine are much more numerous, vulgar, demagogic, ignorant and shallow than their opposite numbers on Capitol Hill.

Incidentally, we have a careless habit of deceiving ourselves about the qualities of American public men whom we dislike, or like. Huey Long was actually a brilliant though unscrupulous statesman and I am one of those who now mourn his removal on the ground of untimeliness because, had Huey lived, he would have frustrated Roosevelt and we would have been spared the Communist treachery, in exchange for horrors that we cannot ever know the nature of.

Senator Bricker, of Ohio, is giving better service than we deserve from a man so ill-rewarded. And Bob Taft, rejected even by regular Republicans as a man who wouldn't "fight," showed high courage in opposing the Nurnberg proposition and fighting the CIO in Ohio. By contrast, Dwight D. Eisenhower not only failed civilization at the Elbe but showed the same lack of something that has got to be born in a man when, at the first news of Dick Nixon's political fund, instead of bellowing his absolute faith, he told reporters Nixon would have to "come clean as a hound's tooth."

And Joe McCarthy, depicted as a thug, has been put to torture in the worst bear-baiting since the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann.

To get along to the French Parliament, have you ever seen that aggregation of hysterical bums in action? I have—not the present device, which is no different, but the old Chamber of Deputies—and it was a frantic rabble of incoherent, double-crossing Simian nonentities.

Look back at history for proof of their absolute incompetence and a guilt worse than mere futility and be assured, on performance to date, the new Parliament is no improvement. I incline to the idea that the French are simply incapable of self-government. But the truth may be that they could do a passable job if they would pay taxes and support their government because such a situation might attract decent men to parliamentary work.

But such speculation does not impair the fact that the American Congress is incomparably superior and that the Dave Schine case is amassing a great net profit to our people. Because, farcical as it all seems, it will presently dawn on us that the Army was getting a rotten deal from the civilian managers of the old War Department and the present Department of the Army. It will dawn on us that Eisenhower and his Palace Guard of New Dealers tried to conceal proof of treachery where absolute loyalty has always been a holy tradition.

This idiotic row, which is said to embarrass us in the eyes of the British, was kicked up at the White House for the sole purpose of holding back the name of the one person who authorized the promotion and the honorable discharge of one army dentist.

When it is all over, McCarthy and Roy Cohn will get that name. While they are at it, they ought to learn the name and rank of the officer who authorized the shipment of Elliott Roosevelt's maneating mutt from Washington to Los Angeles on an army plane in space taken from a homing soldier. That was a flagrant, willful violation of a lawful order issued in writing, but the case was smothered because, with the exception of Johnny, who has been called the white sheep of the family, the other Roosevelts had no better ethics or livelier conscience than the old woman.

So the British are going to think the less of us, are they? Well, how would you like a television view of a female M.P. with the build of a hippopotamus threatening to beat up one of her honorable colleagues on the claim that same had taken a kick at her as happened the last time I was there?

I am one of many who couldn't care less what the British public thinks of McCarthy and of us for turning him loose, and that goes double for the man who sent the Black and Tans to Ireland, Sir Winston Churchill. At least, we are making an effort to expose the treason whereas the worst traitor of them all was sent here by Great Britain, which ultimately gave him less time in jail than they ordinarily give a mildewed drunk for spitting in another derelict's beer.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

Huge Crowd Sees Loyalty Parade

Saugerties, May 3—One of the largest crowds ever to witness a parade in Saugerties lined the streets for the VFW-sponsored Loyalty Day observance Saturday.

People from neighboring communities and counties added to the multitudes from the Saugerties area who came to watch the only Loyalty Day celebration in the Hudson Valley.

An appeal to reason
A few thoughts on the battle of the adjectives in current gasoline advertising

The public must be bewildered these days. We're astounded ourselves. Claims and counter claims about gasolines have been flying around for months. New claims are out, others may be on the way.

No doubt you have noted the keen competition in the statement of claims . . . power increased a given per cent, engine life increased a greater per cent and valve performance increased even more. There are claims to correct spark plug troubles of which Amoco users are not even aware.

Way back in 1910, the American Oil Company published a creed: "Our policy is to offer honest values, honestly described; to market distinctive and better products; to work constantly towards their improvement; to sell them at fair prices; to render efficient service." We haven't changed a word of this today.

The American Oil Company's premium gas is Amoco-Gas. A few weeks ago we published an advertisement headed: "Excuse us! Count us out of the additive race, because Amoco-Gas needs no additive." We have elected instead to bear any cost necessary to give the motorist the finest product that science can produce.

We have no desire to get into the battle of the adjectives. We believe the performance of our products exceeds our claims. We ask you to make your own tests and come to your own conclusions.

Turkey in the Cab

Atlanta (AP) — Hugh Park, Atlanta Journal columnist, reported tersely that four wild turkeys were seen riding in a taxicab at 2 a. m. Charged with stretching the truth he dug out the facts. Ed Dodd, a cartoonist and naturalist, obtained the turkeys from the state conservation department for experiments on his farm. They were flown in and the man who brought them didn't have time to take them all the way, so he called Dodd. Dodd, a practical type, told him, "just put 'em in a taxi. They'll get here all right." And they did.

TV's healthy effect on vaudeville has been noted, but perhaps you're unaware of how it's boomed the labor market for midgets.

"In the old days," says midget Ray Schultz, 52, who is a Sugar Crisp bear on TV, "we were lucky to get 10 weeks work on the big vaudeville circuits. Now with TV and its branches, we're getting steady work and for more money, too."

Midgets used to get short shrift. Now the shrift is longer, though the midgets, presumably, are the same size.

It was a joyous occasion. Jane Froman was coming back to the Copacabana after eight years. The last time, she'd sat propped on a special contraption, because she was then recovering from her injuries. But now, as she rehearses the day before her opening, she pranced around happily, smiled continually, and looked like a schoolgirl set for her first big date.

"Don't jinx me, I'm so nervous," she kept repeating, but her only sign of nervousness was steady cigarette-smoking and restless pacing.

Hank Sylvern, her TV conductor, sat at the piano and led the band. Sid Feller, ex-Capitol Records exec, who did her arrangements, stood to one side. Old friends kept dropping in, and she'd pause in her singing to blow them a kiss or wave a warm greeting.

The glamorous Copa looked dowdy with the chairs stacked on the tables and the musicians in street clothes, but Jane Froman transformed it into a magic place when she began to sing "Answer Me, My Love."

"Nice arrangement, Sid," she called to Feller, when it was over. "And that's not an easy number to arrange."

They went into another song, and she was kidding around a bit and sang it too fast. Sylvern, all business, gave her a stern look. Jane laughed.

"I'm sorry, darling," she said to him. "I was just having fun. I'll be dignified now."

She'd break off now and then to tell the electrician what spotlights she wanted, or to shake hands graciously with the prop man, or to consult with the musicians, or to try out the walking mike.

"That woman," said Feller, summing up everyone's reaction, "is quite a doll."

Ray Bloch, on Lewis' CBS-TV show has been kidding the Candelabra Cutie, and the Liberace Fan Club of Brooklyn has petitioned the Robert Q. Who knows where it all may end? And who, incidentally, cares?

For one of the DuPont "Cavalcade of America" series (ABC-TV), the story of the discovery of the Spindletop oil field in Texas was filmed. An abandoned oil well was used as the background, and the famous gusher was recreated.

Here's a trick of the trade—they used a stand-in for oil. When you see the black gold spout skyward, it'll be water colored with lamp black. I'll be oil, all right—but the old oil.

Freedom From Fear

Cooperstown, N. Y. (AP)—A German-born family, well-acquainted with the meaning of fear and a lost homeland, has made a Korean mother's dream of peace and safety come true. Mrs. Kim Yoo Nam, 32, and her sons, Sung Nam, 7, and Soo Yang, 10, have come from war ravaged Taejon to live with Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Frelan in this upstate village. The Frelans fled Hitler's Germany 16 years ago. Their elder son, Nicholas, met Mrs. Kim while he was serving with the Army Medical Corps in Korea. He offered to share his family's American haven with her.

Argiro Is Elected State Art Head

New Paltz, May 3—Larry Argiro, professor of art education at New Paltz State University Teachers College, was elected president of the New York State Art Teachers Association Saturday at its fifth annual convention in Rochester.

The organization is composed of approximately 900 teachers of art in public, private and parochial schools and colleges.

Argiro, a member of the New Paltz Faculty Art Committee, has done considerable experimentation in art mosaics during the past two years, attempting to develop more freedom and a more modern approach and, at the same time, simplify the technical process. Several of his works have been exhibited at Woodstock, Vassar College and shows of the State University Art Faculties, the New Paltz Art Association and other such groups.

The New Paltz artist has also developed the formula for a sculpture material, "Girostone," a substance which may be easily carved with ordinary household tools such as spoons, knives, coping saws and wood rasps. The material is reported to offer great possibilities for sculpture by children. Its composition and uses are described in an article entitled, Make Your Own Sculpture Materials, which appeared in the November, 1953, issue of School Art.

Before coming to New Paltz he was art teacher and supervisor at West High School, Auburn, taught adult education courses in ceramics and acted as supervising teacher in creative art at the Auburn Museum. He received his Bachelor of Fine Arts degree and the MS degree in education and art from Syracuse University.

Turkey in the Cab

Atlanta (AP) — Hugh Park, Atlanta Journal columnist, reported tersely that four wild turkeys were seen riding in a taxicab at 2 a. m. Charged with stretching the truth he dug out the facts. Ed Dodd, a cartoonist and naturalist, obtained the turkeys from the state conservation department for experiments on his farm. They were flown in and the man who brought them didn't have time to take them all the way, so he called Dodd. Dodd, a practical type, told him, "'just put 'em in a taxi. They'll get here all right." And they did.

Average-size eggs, each weighing about two ounces, should be used in cake baking.

Impersonal Service

Oklahoma City (AP)—Police have found a new wrinkle in the bootleg whisky business in constitutionally dry Oklahoma. Scout car officers noticing "a large amount of foot traffic" entering and leaving a domino parlor got a search warrant and found a door with a sign reading "Please knock or ring the bell." A slot in the door received money. The lower part had a sliding tray. You paid your money and the whisky was slipped out on the tray. The bootlegger could see the customer through a one-way glass. The officers got behind the door by showing the search warrant; found 6½ pints of tax paid liquor.

"Quality Is Remembered Long After Price Is Forgotten"

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Hammond Victor Of Event Sunday

Woodstock, May 3—The first road rally, sponsored by the Woodstock Motor Club Sunday afternoon, concluded with a dinner at the Maverick Inn that night. The first cup, a gold inscribed goblet, was presented to the winner of the rally, Don Hammond, of West Hurley. The prescribed time for the 50-mile course was one hour, 37 minutes and 12 seconds. Hammond's car came in two minutes and 80 seconds under that time. The object of the rally was for drivers to cover the course within a certain designated time at a designated speed. No speed was over 30 miles an hour. The cup was presented to Hammond by James Smith, club president.

The car taking second place was Charles Steel's vehicle, making the course in three minutes and 52 seconds under the designated time. Third place went to Douglas Axtell, coming in three minutes and 59 seconds over the designated time.

Kenneth Gordon of Glenford received an old-time driver's duster coat, a pair of goggles and a cigar. A flat tire, no tools and no spare in his car prevented him from completing the course. He was rescued sometime later by another driver, in time to arrive at the dinner in his costume award.

The first road rally to be held in Woodstock was in September 1952, at which time 15 cars, mostly sports models, entered the event, sponsored by Charles Cooper, of Woodstock. A total of 19 cars, mostly stock cars, entered Sunday's rally which began from the Glenford School and circled the Ashokan reservoir, the same course followed at the first rally.

Among the spectacular cars in this village for the event were the new Kaiser sports car, driven by Alexander Embree, Jr., of the Albany Avenue Garage, Kingston, which drew many admiring spectators when it was driven through the village about noon, Sunday, by John Pike, artist. The other car which also won its share of covetous glances, was Amos Newcomb's Porsche, which also came from Kingston.

Next Event in July

The committee for this rally was headed by James Smith, of Glenford; assisted by Howard Hornbeck, Jerry and Francis Gardner. A committee was formed Sunday at the meeting following the dinner, for the next road rally. Replacing Smith and Hornbeck will be Charles Steel and Douglas Axtell. Jerry and Francis Gardner will again serve.

It is hoped that the next rally, planned for sometime in July, will draw at least 30 entries.

The dinner was attended by about 40 members and their guests, and movies were shown during the evening.

Awards Distributed At Pack 34 Meeting

Woodstock, May 3—Dressed in blue and gold Cub Scout uniforms, 40 boys gathered at the West Hurley Firehouse Wednesday night for the monthly meeting of Pack 34.

Den 3, Woodstock; Mrs. Erwin Ruff, Den Mother, Mrs. Ralph Kricker, Assistant Den Mother; Cubs, Steven Ruff, Barry Wilber, David Kricker, Paul Stolpinski, Harley Avery, Allen Waterous, Jr., Michael Norman and Perter Eerde.

Den 4, Woodstock; Mrs. Milton Houst, Den Mother, Mrs. Donald Davis, Assistant Den Mother; Donald Davis, den chief; Cubs, Jeffrey Davis, Bobby Houst, Allen Lund and Bob West.

Den 5, Woodstock; Mrs. Barbara Gibson, Den Mother; Danny Perlman, Den Chief; Assistant Den Mother, Mrs. Molly Eschmann; Cubs, Paul Champanier, Webb Dordick, Roy Dordick, Freddy Sandner, Jackie Wilbur, Danny Wilbur, Paul Eschmann and Peter Moncure.

Den 6, Woodstock; Mrs. Walter Van Wagenen, Den Mother; Cubs, David Barth, Robin Cantine, George Klippel, Robert Frodsham, Jimmy Kinns and Jay Van Wagenen.

A Cub Scout leaders meeting will be held Wednesday, May 12, the place to be announced. The monthly Cub Pack meeting will be May 26, at the Woodstock Elementary School. The theme for May is Showboat, and it is expected that the various dens will concoct skits for a show.

Impersonal Service

Oklahoma City (AP)—Police have found a new wrinkle in the bootleg whisky business in constitutionally dry Oklahoma. Scout car officers noticing "a large amount of foot traffic" entering and leaving a domino parlor got a search warrant and found a door with a sign reading "Please knock or ring the bell." A slot in the door received money. The lower part had a sliding tray. You paid your money and the whisky was slipped out on the tray. The bootlegger could see the customer through a one-way glass. The officers got behind the door by showing the search warrant; found 6½ pints of tax paid liquor.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Hammond Victor Of Event Sunday

Woodstock, May 3—The first road rally, sponsored by the Woodstock Motor Club Sunday afternoon, concluded with a dinner at the Maverick Inn that night. The first cup, a gold inscribed goblet, was presented to the winner of the rally, Don Hammond, of West Hurley. The prescribed time for the 50-mile course was one hour, 37 minutes and 12 seconds. Hammond's car came in two minutes and 80 seconds under that time. The object of the rally was for drivers to cover the course within a certain designated time at a designated speed. No speed was over 30 miles an hour. The cup was presented to Hammond by James Smith, club president.

The car taking second place was Charles Steel's vehicle, making the course in three minutes and 52 seconds under the designated time. Third place went to Douglas Axtell, coming in three minutes and 59 seconds over the designated time.

Kenneth Gordon of Glenford received an old-time driver's duster coat, a pair of goggles and a cigar. A flat tire, no tools and no spare in his car prevented him from completing the course. He was rescued sometime later by another driver, in time to arrive at the dinner in his costume award.

The first road rally to be held in Woodstock was in September 1952, at which time 15 cars, mostly sports models, entered the event, sponsored by Charles Cooper, of Woodstock. A total of 19 cars, mostly stock cars, entered Sunday's rally which began from the Glenford School and circled the Ashokan reservoir, the same course followed at the first rally.

Among the spectacular cars in this village for the event were the new Kaiser sports car, driven by Alexander Embree, Jr., of the Albany Avenue Garage, Kingston, which drew many admiring spectators when it was driven through the village about noon, Sunday, by John Pike, artist. The other car which also won its share of covetous glances, was Amos Newcomb's Porsche, which also came from Kingston.

Next Event in July

The committee for this rally was headed by James Smith, of Glenford; assisted by Howard Hornbeck, Jerry and Francis Gardner. A committee was formed Sunday at the meeting following the dinner, for the next road rally. Replacing Smith and Hornbeck will be Charles Steel and Douglas Axtell. Jerry and Francis Gardner will again serve.

It is hoped that the next rally, planned for sometime in July, will draw at least 30 entries.

The dinner was attended by about 40 members and their guests, and movies were shown during the evening.

Panama Canal Is 50 Years Old

Panama, May 4 (AP) — The Panama canal marked its 50th anniversary as a U. S. enterprise today.

In May, 1904, the United States bought the canal properties from the French-owned new Panama Canal Company for 40 million dollars. Over the ensuing 10 years the great waterway linking the Atlantic and Pacific was built under the direction of Col. George Washington Goethals.

The total cost of the project, exclusive of expenditures for naval or military defense was some 366 million dollars. About 10 million of this was earmarked to repair recurring slides.

Scratched by Cat

Kathryn Weeks, 30, of 130 Prospect street, was treated about 9 p. m. yesterday by a private physician after she was scratched under the right eye by a cat, according to a notation on the police blotter. She then went to the Kingston Hospital where she received a tetanus shot. The cat, described as part Persian, part alley, belonged to Miss Weeks.

Alaska was bought by the United States from Russia in 1867 for $7,200,000, or about two cents an acre.

At Record Levels

Washington, May 4 (AP) — Construction continued at record levels in April, the Commerce Department reported today. The dollar outlay for new construction was reported 9 per cent greater in April than in March. A preliminary estimate put the total at $2,800,000,000. The gain was about the usual seasonal rise for construction in April, the report said. Expenditures thus far in 1954 were said to be more than 10 billion dollars, a slight increase over construction outlay in the first four months of 1953. Last month's construction spending was reported about 1 per cent higher than that in April 1953.

Coffee, Tea Higher

Seoul, May 4 (AP)—Tea houses and restaurants in this South Korean capital today hiked the prices of a cup of coffee or tea to 22 cents. New government food taxes forced the price up from 17 cents.

Health for All

Test Tube Miracle

Practically 100 per cent fatal. That was the verdict on miliary tuberculosis only seven years ago. It meant swift death to hundreds of children who seem especially susceptible to this acute form of TB in which the disease spreads like wildfire throughout the whole body. But that "wildfire" has been checked by the steady progress of medical research.

In one hospital where many children with TB are treated, Bellevue in New York, only one child has died of miliary tuberculosis since January 1, 1947. What has worked this miracle? Chemicals, developed by patient men in white coats working in research laboratories. But that was only the beginning. Drugs which fought tuberculosis germs in test tubes might be too powerful to use on human beings. Tests had to be made first on laboratory animals and then on people.

The first of the drugs which checked the growth of TB germs was streptomycin. Available less than a decade, its value in treating miliary TB was quickly recognized. Results were good and were even better with the advent of two more drugs: PAS (para-aminosalicylic acid) and, more recently, isoniazid, often used in combination with streptomycin.

One of the most tragic characteristics of miliary tuberculosis is the possibility of its developing into the dreaded tuberculosis meningitis which is often fatal and can leave children with partly paralyzed limbs and lowered mental capacity. The new antituberculosis drugs are now being used to help prevent both these severe forms of TB.

Successful use of these new drugs depends to a large extent on early recognition of suspicious symptoms. These acute forms of TB are usually complications of the more common pulmonary TB. The family doctor, in his regular physical examinations, will be on the watch, but if you have any reason to suspect the possibility of TB, consult him at once and he will make the necessary diagnostic tests.

This column is sponsored in the interest of better health by the Ulster County TB and Health Association, 74 John street.

New Government Formed

Amman, Jordan, May 4 (AP) — Premier Tewfik Pasha Abul Huda formed a new government here today, replacing the regime of Fawzi El-Mulki which resigned Sunday. The resignation came in the wake of British pressure to get Jordan to agree to Israeli demands, under terms of the Palestine Armistice Agreement, for direct Israel-Jordan talks on the tense border situation between the two nations. Reliable sources said El-Mulki's regime, in view of Jordan's military alliance with Britain, had been embarrassed by the anti-Western attitude voiced in Parliament and the press. Abul Huda retained only one minister from El-Mulki's cabinet.

SPRINGTIME IS THE BEST TIME AT HOWE CAVERNS!

Just a short—and pleasant—drive from home

160,000 people can't be wrong! That's how many visited, and marveled at, Howe Caverns last year. Soon, before these summer crowds arrive, bring your whole family on a trip to this underground "Miracle Mile." You will marvel at the weird stone formations, thousands of years old . . . at the strange underground lake. Children under twelve are admitted free, when with their parents. So one day this weekend, make it an educational family outing. Just off N. Y. Route 7, halfway between Central Bridge and Cobleskill.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

If we went back 100 years we would find April 18, 1854—the Alida river steamboat left Kingston at 6:15 a. m. and returned from New York at 4 p. m. Through in Five Hours, was her slogan, and she ran right on through the summer to October. Many business people along the Hudson took advantage of this daily run and were able to leave home in the morning and do their business and be back at night. She made nearly as good time as the famous old Mary Powell but somehow she was not able to make money for her owners. It is said that Marius Schoonmaker, William Masten and Nicholas Elmendorf, the owners, lost heavily in Alida trips.

But as time went on these Kingston daily service trips were run by Thomas Powell which was replaced in 1862 by the famous May Powell and she made history from then on. It is said, her record time, from New York to Rondout, including eight landings, was four hours and 12 minutes. It was said she traveled over a million miles and carried six million passengers. Almost during her entire career the Queen of the Hudson had been in command of a Captain Anderson. First it was Captain A. L. Anderson, son of Nathan Anderson, an old resident boatman, and afterwards Captain A. E. Anderson, son of the former Anderson.

We remember the Mary Powell docking at Ferry street and the Dayline boats docking at Kingston Point Park. In the olden times it was called Columbus Point. Stage lines used to run from the village to the Point. It is said for a time there was dangerous racing and reckless forcing of steam boats to get to various landings first. Finally the tragic burning of the Henry Clay steamboat July 28, of 1852, with a large loss of life brought about many changes on the river. It is said that back in 1841 the old South America ran from Albany to New York in seven hours and 28 minutes, making seven landings. In 1849 the Alida made some 12 landings and covered the distance in seven hours and 45 minutes. In our time the Hendrick Hudson when it was new, it is said, used to make the nine landings in nine hours and 30 minutes because of the large increase of traffic, which took away much of her time.

Now, once in a while we hear of bargains in a loaf of bread. If Kingstonians were to go back to 1819 they would find that the village bakers were required to make their loaves weigh 47 ounces each and sell them at 12½ cents. That is about three times the size of our present pound loaf of bread which sells for around 20 cents. I can just imagine the size of them. I wonder what shape they were baked in. A couple of those 47 ounce breads and you have lots of bread.

With our daily mail delivery now one wonders what happened years ago. Back in 1817, the first post route was established between Kingston and Milford, Pa., and November 13 the first United States mail carrier left Kingston on horseback, making one trip a week. I can imagine the excitement when he was getting ready to leave and wonder what his name was. Perhaps somewhere there are details on that first trip. Such newspapers as the local Ulster Plebeian published in 1815 at first used to employ her own post-rider and it cost each subscriber over a dollar a year which was more than half the price of subscription. Later no doubt the paper was sent by the U. S. mail carrier.

Early residents of New Mexico made candles by dipping strings in hot mutton fat.

HOW MUCH to heat this house with NATURAL GAS?

$20 a month . . . $25 or $30 . . . ?

Not a chance! This 3 story, 6 room house actually heats for only $11.00 a month on the Budget Billing Plan.

That's economy!

And when you consider all the advantages that only Natural Gas can give — longer life — lower equipment cost — less maintenance — clean and absolutely noiseless operation — we think you'll agree that no other fuel quite compares with Natural Gas for house heating!

If you are in the market for a new heating unit, call Central Hudson for full information on Natural Gas fired furnaces or conversion burners for your present furnace. There's no obligation whatever.

Picture Wins Pulitzer Prize

This is the photo Mrs. Walter M. Schau took which won Pulitzer Prize in photography (May 3). It shows the dramatic rescue of P. M. Overby of Portland, Ore., when cab of his trailer-truck dangled over side of the Pit River Bridge near Redding, Calif. (AP Wirephoto).

Long Island Paper

Post and Times-Herald, who won his first Pulitzer Prize in 1942. This year's award was for a cartoon on the death of Joseph Stalin.

The cartoon showed Stalin walking away with a bloody sickle in his left hand. Over him hovered a grim figure of death, saying, "you were always a great friend of mine, Joseph."

Led to Prison

Newsday's steady battle to expose rackets in Long Island harness race track and building construction unions led three weeks ago to the imprisonment of labor czar William C. DeKoning.

DeKoning, who reached his peak of power as an official of Long Island's AFL building council, was convicted of extortion and grand larceny and sent to Sing Sing Prison for from 1 to 1½ years.

The drama award brought to "The Teahouse of the August Moon" its third honor as the top play of the season. It previously won the Antoinette Perry and New York drama critics circle awards.

Except for the drama and music prizes, awarded for work produced during the 1953-54 season, the Pulitzer honors were for achievements during the calendar year 1953.

Established by the will of the late publisher Joseph Pulitzer, the prizes are awarded annually by the trustees of Columbia University with the help of a special advisory board on Pulitzer prizes.

Housewife Honored

The news photography prize went to Mrs. Walter M. Schau, of San Anselmo, Calif., the first woman and second amateur to win this award in the 12 years that it has been given.

Mrs. Schau happened to have her camera with her a year ago yesterday when she witnessed a dramatic rescue of two men from the dangling cab of a truck that had smashed through the railing of a bridge. She snapped the picture and minutes later the cab dropped in flames to the ground below.

The 39-year-old housewife, advised that she had won the coveted prize, declared she was "no photographer at all."

The Pulitzer award cites two pictures—the rescue shot and a follow-up picture of the cab after it crashed to the ground. Mrs. Schau said only the first picture was hers and a spokesman for Columbia University later announced:

"It now appears this (the second picture) was taken by another photographer. Mrs. Schau's was the key picture of this rescue and, in the judgment of the advisory board, it was the outstanding picture of 1953."

Both photographs were transmitted by Associated Press wirephoto from Sacramento, Calif., May 4, 1953.

Other Awards

Other journalism awards were:

Local Reporting (two awards)—The Vicksburg, Miss., Sunday Post-Herald for its coverage of a disastrous tornado last Dec. 5; and Alvin Scott McCoy of the Kansas City Star for a series that led to the resignation of Republican National Chairman C. Wesley Roberts under fire on March 27, 1953.

National Reporting — Richard Wilson of the Washington Bureau of the Cowles Newspapers for his exclusive publication of the FBI report to the White House in the Harry Dexter White case.

International Reporting — Jim G. Lucas of Scripps-Howard Newspapers, for his "dispatches that breathed of the human beings fighting" in Korea.

Editorial Writing — The Boston Herald for its editorial on national defense by Don Murray.

All journalism awards are worth $1,000, except Newsday's public service award for which it received a gold medal.

Literature awards, in addition to drama and biography, were:

History—Bruce Catton, a 55-year-old former newspaperman, for his Civil War study, "A Stillness at Appomattox."

Poetry—Theodore Roethke, for "The Waking."

The music award, which like those in literature is worth $500, went to Quincy Porter for his "Concerto for Two Pianos and Orchestra."

A $1,500 traveling scholarship in art went to Henry E. Niese of Montclair, N. J.

Picture Wins Pulitzer Prize

This is the photo Mrs. Walter M. Schau took which won Pulitzer Prize in photography (May 3). It shows the dramatic rescue of P. M. Overby of Portland, Ore., when cab of his trailer-truck dangled over side of the Pit River Bridge near Redding, Calif. (AP Wirephoto).

Long Island Paper

Post and Times-Herald, who won his first Pulitzer Prize in 1942. This year's award was for a cartoon on the death of Joseph Stalin.

The cartoon showed Stalin walking away with a bloody sickle in his left hand. Over him hovered a grim figure of death, saying, "you were always a great friend of mine, Joseph."

Led to Prison

Newsday's steady battle to expose rackets in Long Island harness race track and building construction unions led three weeks ago to the imprisonment of labor czar William C. DeKoning.

DeKoning, who reached his peak of power as an official of Long Island's AFL building council, was convicted of extortion and grand larceny and sent to Sing Sing Prison for from 1 to 1½ years.

The drama award brought to "The Teahouse of the August Moon" its third honor as the top play of the season. It previously won the Antoinette Perry and New York drama critics circle awards.

Except for the drama and music prizes, awarded for work produced during the 1953-54 season, the Pulitzer honors were for achievements during the calendar year 1953.

Established by the will of the late publisher Joseph Pulitzer, the prizes are awarded annually by the trustees of Columbia University with the help of a special advisory board on Pulitzer prizes.

Housewife Honored

The news photography prize went to Mrs. Walter M. Schau, of San Anselmo, Calif., the first woman and second amateur to win this award in the 12 years that it has been given.

Mrs. Schau happened to have her camera with her a year ago yesterday when she witnessed a dramatic rescue of two men from the dangling cab of a truck that had smashed through the railing of a bridge. She snapped the picture and minutes later the cab dropped in flames to the ground below.

The 39-year-old housewife, advised that she had won the coveted prize, declared she was "no photographer at all."

The Pulitzer award cites two pictures—the rescue shot and a follow-up picture of the cab after it crashed to the ground. Mrs. Schau said only the first picture was hers and a spokesman for Columbia University later announced:

"It now appears this (the second picture) was taken by another photographer. Mrs. Schau's was the key picture of this rescue and, in the judgment of the advisory board, it was the outstanding picture of 1953."

Both photographs were transmitted by Associated Press wirephoto from Sacramento, Calif., May 4, 1953.

Other Awards

Other journalism awards were:

Local Reporting (two awards)—The Vicksburg, Miss., Sunday Post-Herald for its coverage of a disastrous tornado last Dec. 5; and Alvin Scott McCoy of the Kansas City Star for a series that led to the resignation of Republican National Chairman C. Wesley Roberts under fire on March 27, 1953.

National Reporting — Richard Wilson of the Washington Bureau of the Cowles Newspapers for his exclusive publication of the FBI report to the White House in the Harry Dexter White case.

International Reporting — Jim G. Lucas of Scripps-Howard Newspapers, for his "dispatches that breathed of the human beings fighting" in Korea.

Editorial Writing — The Boston Herald for its editorial on national defense by Don Murray.

All journalism awards are worth $1,000, except Newsday's public service award for which it received a gold medal.

Literature awards, in addition to drama and biography, were:

History—Bruce Catton, a 55-year-old former newspaperman, for his Civil War study, "A Stillness at Appomattox."

Poetry—Theodore Roethke, for "The Waking."

The music award, which like those in literature is worth $500, went to Quincy Porter for his "Concerto for Two Pianos and Orchestra."

A $1,500 traveling scholarship in art went to Henry E. Niese of Montclair, N. J.

YW Sketch Class Exhibition Opens For Three Days

In spite of the inclement weather, approximately 200 art-minded friends attended the thirteenth annual exhibit of paintings and studies by members of Miss Emily D. B. Hoysradt's Sketch Class held yesterday afternoon at the YWCA.

Representing the efforts of 18 amateur painters, the show included a variety of subjects and artistic media: oils, water colors and charcoals. As in past years the exhibit of 71 studies was dominated by landscapes, many of them scenes familiar to residents of Ulster county.

Yesterday's show was built around three particular pictures, Spring in Bruges, Belgium by Mrs. William F. Murray, The Pines by Miss Sally Gallagher and Anemones by Mrs. Charles Arnold. Another group which attracted wide attention was five water color studies by Miss Margaret Schuetz.

Also featured in this year's show were several pictures of the New England coast painted this past summer by Mrs. Arnold, Miss DuMond and Miss Gallagher while vacationing in Massachusetts.

As usual paintings by Miss Ruth Glendenning, Mrs. Frederic W. Holcomb and Miss Agnes Scott Smith stressed local studies made at Hurley, Palenville and Woodstock. One of the more humorous subjects was entitled "Nobody but Us Chickens," a detailed study of an antique shop by Mrs. John Ford. Mrs. Charles Amberg exhibited the only oil painting in this year's show entitled "The Sheik."

Other landscapes were displayed by Mrs. Reynolds Carr, Miss Margaret Finn, Mrs. Raymond Gross, Mrs. Charles Kelder, Miss Olive Keyer, Miss Carmela Miuccio, Miss Frances Miuccio and Helen Terwilliger. Miss Frances Miuccio, Mrs. Kelder, Mrs. Gross and Miss DuMond also displayed still lifes of flowers and fruit.

Mrs. Amberg, Mrs. Arnold, Miss Du Mond and Miss Smith featured several charcoal studies, including two Indian girls, modelling casts, a church at Llanbedr, Wales and New England scenes.

The tea table was attractively decorated with an arrangement of tulips, bridal wreath and larch furnished by Mrs. Raymond Gross. Those who assisted by pouring will conclude the program with the benediction.

Corsages will be presented to the honored mothers by Sam Pepper, superintendent. A tea will be served following the program. Visitors are welcome.

Corsages will be presented through the courtesy of Burgevin Florists. The stage settings will be executed by Otto Havlin. Hostesses will be Mrs. J. Dean Dykstra and Miss Beverly Havlin, assisted by the girls of the junior high and senior classes. Mrs. Herbert Draves heads the program committee.

Scottish Legend Is Told in Songs, Dances by Students

A colorful legend of Scotland was told in songs, authentic Scotch dances and dialogue against a background of an Inn at Arundee at St. Mary's Hall last night by students of St. Ursula Academy. From the opening of the Kilties Dance, which by popular demand was repeated at the closing, the legend by Theodore Heinroth delighted a capacity audience.

Fairies and elves, the wee folk of the land, and the Kilties, as well as solo dances by Miss Eugenie Cooney, who did the entire choreography for the production, enhanced the unusually fine acting and singing. The costumes and setting were well executed and colorful, providing the proper atmosphere for the presentation.

Miss Alice Mary Ambrose and Miss Catherine Gormley were concert masters. The cast included: Miss Elizabeth Gormley, Miss Joan Ambrose, Miss Mary Jane Medve, Miss Matilda Cordts, Miss Margaret Gormley, Miss Maureen Maines, Miss Patricia Nawe, Miss Joyce Halloran, Miss Barbara Stalter, Miss Marie Therese O'Reilly, Miss Ann Dittmar, Miss Betty McCord, Miss Ella Mehlig, Miss Carol Ann Thornton, and Miss Patrice Quilty.

Representing the efforts of 18 amateur painters, the show included a variety of subjects and artistic media: oils, water colors and charcoals. As in past years the exhibit of 71 studies was dominated by landscapes, many of them scenes familiar to residents of Ulster county.

Yesterday's show was built around three particular pictures, Spring in Bruges, Belgium by Mrs. William F. Murray, The Pines by Miss Sally Gallagher and Anemones by Mrs. Charles Arnold. Another group which attracted wide attention was five water color studies by Miss Margaret Schuetz.

Also featured in this year's show were several pictures of the New England coast painted this past summer by Mrs. Arnold, Miss DuMond and Miss Gallagher while vacationing in Massachusetts.

As usual paintings by Miss Ruth Glendenning, Mrs. Frederic W. Holcomb and Miss Agnes Scott Smith stressed local studies made at Hurley, Palenville and Woodstock. One of the more humorous subjects was entitled "Nobody but Us Chickens," a detailed study of an antique shop by Mrs. John Ford. Mrs. Charles Amberg exhibited the only oil painting in this year's show entitled "The Sheik."

Other landscapes were displayed by Mrs. Reynolds Carr, Miss Margaret Finn, Mrs. Raymond Gross, Mrs. Charles Kelder, Miss Olive Keyer, Miss Carmela Miuccio, Miss Frances Miuccio and Helen Terwilliger. Miss Frances Miuccio, Mrs. Kelder, Mrs. Gross and Miss DuMond also displayed still lifes of flowers and fruit.

Mrs. Amberg, Mrs. Arnold, Miss Du Mond and Miss Smith featured several charcoal studies, including two Indian girls, modelling casts, a church at Llanbedr, Wales and New England scenes.

The tea table was attractively decorated with an arrangement of tulips, bridal wreath and larch furnished by Mrs. Raymond Gross. Those who assisted by pouring were Miss Mabel Cook, Mrs. Theron Culver, Mrs. Frank C. Donohue and Mrs. Raymond Van Valkenburgh.

Anyone unable to attend the tea yesterday, who is interested in the exhibit, may view the pictures at the YWCA this evening, tomorrow and Thursday. The show will be dismantled Friday.

Scottish Legend Is Told in Songs, Dances by Students

A colorful legend of Scotland was told in songs, authentic Scotch dances and dialogue against a background of an Inn at Arundee at St. Mary's Hall last night by students of St. Ursula Academy. From the opening of the Kilties Dance, which by popular demand was repeated at the closing, the legend by Theodore Heinroth delighted a capacity audience.

Fairies and elves, the wee folk of the land, and the Kilties, as well as solo dances by Miss Eugenie Cooney, who did the entire choreography for the production, enhanced the unusually fine acting and singing. The costumes and setting were well executed and colorful, providing the proper atmosphere for the presentation.

Miss Alice Mary Ambrose and Miss Catherine Gormley were concert masters. The cast included: Miss Elizabeth Gormley, Miss Joan Ambrose, Miss Mary Jane Medve, Miss Matilda Cordts, Miss Margaret Gormley, Miss Maureen Maines, Miss Patricia Nawe, Miss Joyce Halloran, Miss Barbara Stalter, Miss Marie Therese O'Reilly, Miss Ann Dittmar, Miss Betty McCord, Miss Ella Mehlig, Miss Carol Ann Thornton, and Miss Patrice Quilty.

First Lady Greets Palsy Poster Youth At White House

Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the First Lady of the land, received the three United Cerebral Palsy 1954 Poster Children at the White House, April 30, it was announced here by Dr. Henry L. Bibby president of United Cerebral Palsy of Ulster county.

The children presented Mrs. Eisenhower with a small-scale model of the Beacon of Hope, symbol of the UCP Campaign. Full-size Beacon of Hope will be lit in Kingston, Friday, to signalize the opening of UCP's fifth annual campaign, which will continue through the month of May.

The children were presented to Mrs. Eisenhower by Mrs. Leonard H. Goldenson, of Mamaroneck, wife of the national president of United Cerebral Palsy. Accompanying them were William Clay Ford of Detroit, vice president of the Ford Motor Company, and National Campaign chairman for the 1954 UCP drive.

This is the second year that Mrs. Eisenhower has received the youthful Messengers of Hope of the nation's Cerebral Palsied children and adults. Each year three children who have been helped by UCP affiliates are chosen to represent the progress that can be made by the Cerebral Palsied with proper treatment and care. This year's children are Craig Thomas, 8, the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Robert J. Thomas of Syracuse; Linda Lou King, 7, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil King, of Terra Haute, Ind.; and Charles Stohlberg, 5, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Axel Stohlberg of North Plainfield, N. J.

The children showed Mrs. Eisenhower the model of the Beacon and told her what this symbol and the drive for which it stands mean to the nation's more than 550,000 Cerebral Palsied. The goal of this year's campaign is $8,500,000.

Following the White House reception, the children together with their parents, brothers and sisters, participated in a sightseeing tour and motorcade arranged by the Ford dealers of the Washington area.

This was the second meeting with Mrs. Eisenhower for at least one of the children—little Craig Thomas. Craig, an avid autograph collector, has made up for his lack of mobility due to cerebral palsy by writing to hundreds of famous persons, asking for their pictures and autographs. As a result, a number of celebrities have looked him up when they have passed through Syracuse. In 1952, before the Presidential election, Craig was photographed with General and Mrs. Eisenhower when they visited Syracuse.

All three children are now attending UCP supported facilities, and they have all made considerable progress in overcoming the handicaps of cerebral palsy.

The children were presented to Mrs. Eisenhower by Mrs. Leonard H. Goldenson, of Mamaroneck, wife of the national president of United Cerebral Palsy. Accompanying them were William Clay Ford of Detroit, vice president of the Ford Motor Company, and National Campaign chairman for the 1954 UCP drive.

This is the second year that Mrs. Eisenhower has received the youthful Messengers of Hope of the nation's Cerebral Palsied children and adults. Each year three children who have been helped by UCP affiliates are chosen to represent the progress that can be made by the Cerebral Palsied with proper treatment and care. This year's children are Craig Thomas, 8, the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Robert J. Thomas of Syracuse; Linda Lou King, 7, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil King, of Terra Haute, Ind.; and Charles Stohlberg, 5, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Axel Stohlberg of North Plainfield, N. J.

The children showed Mrs. Eisenhower the model of the Beacon and told her what this symbol and the drive for which it stands mean to the nation's more than 550,000 Cerebral Palsied. The goal of this year's campaign is $8,500,000.

Following the White House reception, the children together with their parents, brothers and sisters, participated in a sightseeing tour and motorcade arranged by the Ford dealers of the Washington area.

This was the second meeting with Mrs. Eisenhower for at least one of the children—little Craig Thomas. Craig, an avid autograph collector, has made up for his lack of mobility due to cerebral palsy by writing to hundreds of famous persons, asking for their pictures and autographs. As a result, a number of celebrities have looked him up when they have passed through Syracuse. In 1952, before the Presidential election, Craig was photographed with General and Mrs. Eisenhower when they visited Syracuse.

All three children are now attending UCP supported facilities, and they have all made considerable progress in overcoming the handicaps of cerebral palsy.

Mezzo-Soprano of Metropolitan to Sing Here

MILDRED MILLER

Mildred Miller Will Be Presented Here In Concert Program

Despite the fact her initial successes were made abroad, Mildred Miller, young mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera who will be presented as one of the three programs in next year's series for Community Concert Association, is as American as an ice cream cone. She came from Cleveland, studied at Cleveland Institute of Music and later at New England Conservatory where she made a successful operatic debut as Cherubino in The Marriage of Figaro.

She won a grant from the Frank Huntington Beebe Fund in Cleveland for a year's study in Italy. Afterward she was engaged for a season of opera at Stuttgart, Germany, where Rudolf Bing, general manager at the Met, hear her sing. She made her debut at the Met late in 1951 and since then has sung most of the mezzo soprana roles in the repertoire. She has completed a season of 32 appearances.

Miss Miller is married to Wesley Posvar who teaches social sciences and history at West Point. They have a three-year-old son and live in Peekskill.

In addition to Miss Miller the association has announced the presentation of Boston Pops Orchestra, Arthur Fiedler conductor. The third concert will be announced at the close of the campaign week.

All memberships which are admissions to all concerts must be subscribed with a worker or at headquarters in Governor Clinton Hotel before 5 p. m. Saturday, May 8. By this one-week membership campaign, the local association hopes to subscribe more than 1,000 people for next season's concerts.

Negro Family Moves

Chicago, May 4 (AP)—A Negro family has moved out of a south side public housing development, yielding, said Donald Howard, 29, to a nine-month "reign of terror and violence." The previously all-white Trumbull Park homes project has been the scene of many racial disorders since Howard, his wife and two small children moved in last July 30. Howard, who did not say where he was moving, expressed the belief that "white mobsters and hoodlums who stormed my home" will continue to harass 10 other Negro families who moved into Trumbull Park after the Howards.

As a general rule, the better you play bridge, the more points you will score. Once in a while, however, as today's hand shows, your brilliant play will land you in the soup.

When today's hand was played in a recent team-of-four match, the contract was four hearts at both tables. At both tables, likewise, West opened the seven of spades.

The first East won the first trick with the ten of spades, continued with the king of spades, and then led the ace of spades. This gave the declarer a chance to go wrong. If South ruffed with a low trump, West would overruff and cash the ace of clubs immediately to set the contract.

The declarer in the first room saw this danger and therefore ruffed with the ace of trumps in order to prevent an overruff. He next led a trump to dummy's king and cashed the queen of spades to discard the queen of clubs. West got a trump trick but not a club trick, and South made his contract.

At the second table, East won the trick with the ten of spades and saw that a spade continuation would do no good. East brilliantly returned the seven of clubs at the second trick, hoping that his partner would take the ace of clubs and lead his remaining spade. A spade continuation would then assure West of a trump trick, to defeat the contract.

It was a brilliant idea, and East is to be congratulated on discovering the only defense that had a chance to defeat the contract. Unfortunately for East, however, his partner could not read the play.

When East led the seven of clubs at the second trick, West naturally took the ace of clubs. West decided that his partner must have returned a singleton club, and he therefore led another club at the third trick.

This defense gave declarer the chance to throw off his losing spade, and South wound up making 11 tricks. East had found the only line of play that could possibly defeat the contract, but the result was only to give declarer an extra trick.

'TV Teeth' Explained

London, May 4 (AP)—The British Dental Association warned parents today against a new child ailment: TV teeth. An association report said children have the habit of watching television with their heads held in their hands. When they get excited, they press harder and harder. This, the report declared, may cause the teeth to go out of proper alignment.

Declare Disposal Plan Unwise

Kingston, N. Y.
May 3, 1954.

Editor, The Freeman:

We should like to contribute our opinion to the much discussed question of creating a dump in the Fifth Ward.

We believe the project is unwise and against the best interests of the Ponckhockie community and the city as a whole.

As far as we have been able to ascertain, every Ponckhockie resident feels strongly about the disposal of refuse in this Ward in any way and is fully opposed to it.

There are many arguments against this project. Among them is its nearness to a public and a private school.

It is, we are sure, the unanimous wish of the people of Ponckhockie that an alternate plan will be found to avoid the disposal of waste in this or any other residential section of our city.

Declare Disposal Plan Unwise

Kingston, N. Y.
May 3, 1954.

Editor, The Freeman:

We should like to contribute our opinion to the much discussed question of creating a dump in the Fifth Ward.

We believe the project is unwise and against the best interests of the Ponckhockie community and the city as a whole.

As far as we have been able to ascertain, every Ponckhockie resident feels strongly about the disposal of refuse in this Ward in any way and is fully opposed to it.

There are many arguments against this project. Among them is its nearness to a public and a private school.

It is, we are sure, the unanimous wish of the people of Ponckhockie that an alternate plan will be found to avoid the disposal of waste in this or any other residential section of our city.

Negro Family Moves

Chicago, May 4 (AP)—A Negro family has moved out of a south side public housing development, yielding, said Donald Howard, 29, to a nine-month "reign of terror and violence." The previously all-white Trumbull Park homes project has been the scene of many racial disorders since Howard, his wife and two small children moved in last July 30. Howard, who did not say where he was moving, expressed the belief that "white mobsters and hoodlums who stormed my home" will continue to harass 10 other Negro families who moved into Trumbull Park after the Howards.

High School Varsities Plan Delayed Openers Wednesday

Baseball, Tennis Rained Out Again; Golf Team Loses

Poughkeepsie Trips Linksmen, 6½-5½

Even the weather man is contriving against the Kingston High School baseball team.

The latest opener in KHS history was scheduled yesterday with Poughkeepsie High at the municipal stadium—until the rains came.

There was little likelihood it could be played today because of the poor drainage at the uptown park. Furthermore, Coach Sam Kalloch of Poughkeepsie had already booked Roosevelt High for this date.

So Coach Bill Burke and the Maroons have successive home games scheduled Wednesday with the Blues and Thursday against Port Jervis. Both contests are scheduled at 4 p. m.

Tennis Washed Out

Coach Theron Culver's tennis varsity was hoping it could play its seasonal opener against Monticello today at 4 p. m. at Hutton Park. But was doubtful because of several wet spots on the courts.

The tennis team's first scheduled date with Newburgh last Thursday was cancelled because of wet grounds. That match is tentatively scheduled for Wednesday.

If both dates are rained out or cancelled out, the Maroon netmen resume their regular slate Thursday with Poughkepsie High.

The track varsity engages in a triangular meet with Monticello and Port Jervis Friday at 4 p. m. at municipal stadium.

Junior varsity baseball gets under way with a game at Hudson High Wednesday.

Golf Team Loses

One varsity was able to get its 1954 slate under way yesterday—the golf squad dropping a 6½ to 5½ decision to Poughkeepsie High on rain-soaked fairways at the College Hill course.

Ronnie Marks fired a 39-37-76 to defeat Poughkeepsie's Stan Feldsine, 3-0, in the No. 1 match.

Harold Van Aken, 2½-½ winner over Tom Pierce, missed a shutout on the 18th hole. Van Aken pushed his tee shot to the right of the green on the downhill hole, pitched short and needed a bogie-4 to get down.

Pierce hit the edge of the green on his tee shot and got in three with a chip shot and one putt. Van Aken carded 39-39-78, while Pierce had 42-39-81.

Richard Skinner (93) won 3-0 over John Turck (99) and Charlie DeStefano, Jr., son of the College Hill pro, posted an 87 to defeat Kingston's Jerry Jacobs (96), 3 to 0.

The teams tied in aggregate strokes with 349.

Ebelheiser Cracks 2 Hits for Winners

Norm Ellman pitched four-hit ball and cracked a bases-loaded triple as New Paltz State defeated Albany State, 7-4, in its 1954 baseball opener.

The big right hander had only one bad inning—the fourth—when Albany picked up its four runs.

New Paltz, getting six hits off two Albany flingers—Schumanski and McCormick—broke the game open with a six-run rally in the sixth. Ellman's base-clearing triple climaxed the big inning. The Orange and Black picked up an insurance marker in the seventh.

Frank "Spec" Ebelheiser, of Kingston, played second base and collected two singles in four trips. Another Kingstonian, Don Lyons, played third and went hitless in four tries. Ebelheiser was the only player on either side with more than one safety.

New Paltz was scheduled to meet Waterbury Teachers of Connecticut today at 4 p. m. at New Paltz.

Harman Expects Busy Slate for Merchants

Sparando Wins ABC Singles; Chicago Team's 3226 First

Seattle, May 4 (AP)—Tony Sparando of Rego Park, N. Y., still held the coveted No. 1 spot in singles competition as the 45-day American Bowling Congress meet closed down for another year yesterday.

Sparando, who rolled his big series several weeks ago, won out by a single pin over Bill Larue of Detroit, who took second with 722. But both had a scare in the final day yesterday when Roy Ah Nee of Honolulu clicked off games of 248 and 256. That left him with 504 and needing only a 220 game to take the first singles spot.

But Ah Nee, rolling in the ABC for the first time, could do no better than 205 in his third game and had to settle for 705 and fourth place in the singles standings behind Sparando, Larue and George Earl of Spokane, Wash., who had 712.

Ah Nee's performance causing the only change in the standings during the final day's bowling.

16,000 Bowled

The 1954 ABC, first ever held in Seattle, drew some 16,000 bowlers and played before an attendance in excess of 55,000. The final figures were not yet compiled.

Tournament officials were busy today notifying the top money winners by telegram, standard operating procedure, of their final rankings.

The champions in the five divisions:

Open Team—Tri-Par Radio, Chicago 3226.

Booster Team—Washington Boat Center, Seattle 2847.

Singles—Tony Sparando, Rego Park, N. Y., 723.

Doubles—Don McClaren, St. Louis-Billy Welu, Houston 1335.

All-Events—Brad Lewis, Ashland, Ohio 1985.

Simon Pure Beer and Ale of Buffalo was second in the open team competition with 3133. Victor Herrmann of Buffalo was fifth in the all-events with 1927.

Heavy Schedule Set Outside City League

Although the club was organized primarily for City Baseball League action, the Colonial Merchants will play a heavy independent schedule this season, Manager George Harman said today.

"Everybody is wondering about the City League," said Harman, "and we're hoping it re-organizes. If it doesn't, we still plan to play Sunday and twilight ball with teams in the mountain area."

Harman, who was enthusiastic about Saturday's turnout of candidates, said he might possibly book some of the barnstorming outfits.

The batch of team candidates included many City League favorites, among them Chuck Engle, Torm Larsen, Erick Goercke, Ward Dunham, Bob Beaumont and Lou DeCicco.

Pete Dyworshek, a former teacher at Wallkill, who now resides in Kingston, is expected to compete.

Telepas to Pitch

George Telepas, former Kingston High school star, attended the workout at the Athletic Field and is expected to be the No. 1 hurler on Harman's staff.

Don Lyons and Frank "Specs" Ebelheiser, members of the State Teachers College nine of New Paltz, will join the fold later, along with Bud Scheffel and Bob Baumer. Frank Petromale and Big Zeke Klosterman, a City League pitching standout are also listed on the roster.

Harman believes the Merchants, formerly operated by Pucker Davis, will develop into a powerful, well-balanced team which will hold its own with any of the heavier semi-pro squads in this area.

Ward Dunham, veteran first baseman, has been named team captain.

Waltman Hits 562 in Mixer

Dick Waltman's 562, with 203-134-225, was top series in the Ferraro Mixer League.

Runnerup John Brady fired 210-538. George Hofmann posted 528 and Tony La Rocca socked 206-536.

Tennis Rained Out

New York, May 4 (AP)—Davis Cup captain Billy Talbert and Hamilton Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., will meet in the next match of the national round-robin tennis championship next Monday. Last night's scheduled match between ex-national champion Art Larsen and Gardnar Mulloy was rained out.

Queen Leads Champions

Jones Dairy Women Cop Major League Pennant

That new method of deciding bowling ties helped Jones Dairy's Major League keglerettes win the 1953-54 championship.

The Dairy-Ettes turned back Jake's Grill, 2-1, last night at the Bowlodrome to finish the 102-game grind just a half length ahead of the SRS Home.

Under the old rules, the tie game in the SRS standings could have gone either way. The Dairy-ettes might have won by a game or found themselves in a tie.

Schatzel Hits 600

Rose Schatzel got progressively better to slam 600 on the nose. She opened with 180, then shot 194 and 226.

Runnerup Charlotte Lapine toppled 201-576, Mabel Davis tossed a 518, Betty Bailey 509, Eleanor Singer 501. Other leaders included Nellie Alverson 496, Mary Diamond 491, Helen Broskie 469.

Team results:

Bert Bishops 2, SRS Home 1; Jones Dairy 2, Jake's Grill 1.

Harman Expects Busy Slate for Merchants

Sparando Wins ABC Singles; Chicago Team's 3226 First

Seattle, May 4 (AP)—Tony Sparando of Rego Park, N. Y., still held the coveted No. 1 spot in singles competition as the 45-day American Bowling Congress meet closed down for another year yesterday.

Sparando, who rolled his big series several weeks ago, won out by a single pin over Bill Larue of Detroit, who took second with 722. But both had a scare in the final day yesterday when Roy Ah Nee of Honolulu clicked off games of 248 and 256. That left him with 504 and needing only a 220 game to take the first singles spot.

But Ah Nee, rolling in the ABC for the first time, could do no better than 205 in his third game and had to settle for 705 and fourth place in the singles standings behind Sparando, Larue and George Earl of Spokane, Wash., who had 712.

Ah Nee's performance causing the only change in the standings during the final day's bowling.

16,000 Bowled

The 1954 ABC, first ever held in Seattle, drew some 16,000 bowlers and played before an attendance in excess of 55,000. The final figures were not yet compiled.

The champions in the five divisions:

Booster Team—Washington Boat Center, Seattle 2847.

Singles—Tony Sparando, Rego Park, N. Y., 723.

All-Events—Brad Lewis, Ashland, Ohio 1985.

Simon Pure Beer and Ale of Buffalo was second in the open team competition with 3133. Victor Herrmann of Buffalo was fifth in the all-events with 1927.

Heavy Schedule Set Outside City League

Although the club was organized primarily for City Baseball League action, the Colonial Merchants will play a heavy independent schedule this season, Manager George Harman said today.

"Everybody is wondering about the City League," said Harman, "and we're hoping it re-organizes. If it doesn't, we still plan to play Sunday and twilight ball with teams in the mountain area."

Harman, who was enthusiastic about Saturday's turnout of candidates, said he might possibly book some of the barnstorming outfits.

The batch of team candidates included many City League favorites, among them Chuck Engle, Torm Larsen, Erick Goercke, Ward Dunham, Bob Beaumont and Lou DeCicco.

Pete Dyworshek, a former teacher at Wallkill, who now resides in Kingston, is expected to compete.

Telepas to Pitch

George Telepas, former Kingston High school star, attended the workout at the Athletic Field and is expected to be the No. 1 hurler on Harman's staff.

Don Lyons and Frank "Specs" Ebelheiser, members of the State Teachers College nine of New Paltz, will join the fold later, along with Bud Scheffel and Bob Baumer. Frank Petromale and Big Zeke Klosterman, a City League pitching standout are also listed on the roster.

Harman believes the Merchants, formerly operated by Pucker Davis, will develop into a powerful, well-balanced team which will hold its own with any of the heavier semi-pro squads in this area.

Ward Dunham, veteran first baseman, has been named team captain.

Tennis Rained Out

New York, May 4 (AP)—Davis Cup captain Billy Talbert and Hamilton Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., will meet in the next match of the national round-robin tennis championship next Monday. Last night's scheduled match between ex-national champion Art Larsen and Gardnar Mulloy was rained out.

Queen Leads Champions

Jones Dairy Women Cop Major League Pennant

That new method of deciding bowling ties helped Jones Dairy's Major League keglerettes win the 1953-54 championship.

The Dairy-Ettes turned back Jake's Grill, 2-1, last night at the Bowlodrome to finish the 102-game grind just a half length ahead of the SRS Home.

Under the old rules, the tie game in the SRS standings could have gone either way. The Dairy-ettes might have won by a game or found themselves in a tie.

Schatzel Hits 600

Rose Schatzel got progressively better to slam 600 on the nose. She opened with 180, then shot 194 and 226.

Runnerup Charlotte Lapine toppled 201-576, Mabel Davis tossed a 518, Betty Bailey 509, Eleanor Singer 501. Other leaders included Nellie Alverson 496, Mary Diamond 491, Helen Broskie 469.

Team results:

Bert Bishops 2, SRS Home 1; Jones Dairy 2, Jake's Grill 1.

WhiteSox'sFastGetawayHelped By Yankees' Stumbling Tactics

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago White Sox are making every effort to run off and hide from the New York Yankees in the American League pennant race and for a change they're getting some help.

For more seasons than they care to remember the rest of the managers in the league have found out the hard way that no team can beat the Bronx Bombers all by itself.

The New Yorkers always discovered a cousin or two somewhere, teams they could whip with ease while the contenders were busy battering each other out of the pennant race.

But not so far in 1954.

Every team the Yanks have played has beaten them at least once. And they've played every team in the league except Baltimore. The Orioles open a three-game series in New York today.

Meanwhile the White Sox have recovered from three quick losses at the start of the season and have won nine of their last 12 games. They lead the league by one game over the surprising Detroit Tigers and hold a four-game edge over the Yankees.

From start to finish a year ago the Yankees never were more than one game out of first place.

In addition to the pleasure of having the other teams beat the Yankees, the White Sox have received phenomenal pitching from unexpected sources and excellent hitting from a couple of fellows who have to produce to keep the pennant threat alive.

Groth on Spree

Johnny Groth, a .253 weakling with the St. Louis Browns last year, is leading the Sox with a .364 average. Ferris Fain, who followed two straight batting championships with a miserable .256 performance last season, is hitting at a .328 clip.

Bob Keegan, Sandy Consuegra and Don Johnson have accounted for seven victories without being beaten. Johnson, former Yankee property, is a fugitive from Toronto. Keegan and Consuegra had a combined 1953 record of 14-10.

Consuegra won his second one yesterday. Despite the 14-3 score against the Philadelphia Athletics he gave up only two hits, a bunt single and a windblown double, both by Forrest (Spook) Jacobs.

Consuegra had a perfect game working until Jacobs got his double with one out in the seventh.

Cards Beat Giants

The St. Louis Cardinals beat the New York Giants 8-2 last night in the only other actvity in either league. It was too cold at Milwaukee for Brooklyn to play the last place Braves and it was too wet at Washington for the Senators' game with Cleveland.

At St. Louis the Cardinals scored three runs on one hit—Tom Alston's double—in the first inning and three more on Ray Jablonski's home run in the fourth as Vic Raschi pitched his first complete game since leaving the Yankees.

Twice before Raschi has pitched nine innings but in each instance the game ran into extra innings.

Ruben Gomez, who never got anybody out in the first, was the loser. He walked three, one man was safe on an error and two scored on Alston's double. After that Gomez gave way to Mario Picone.

Stan Musial, who slugged a record five home runs in Sunday's twin bill with the Giants, didn't get a hit. He didn't get much chance. He was walked four times and fouled out on his one official appearance.

National Batsmen Booming Home Runs At Record Pace

New York, May 4 (AP)—National League batters, who hit home runs at a record rate last season, are slamming them at an even faster pace in 1954.

Figures compiled by the Associated Press revealed today that a total of 145 circuit blows have been struck in the senior circuit this year as against 123 in a comparable number of games in '53.

Last season, National League hitters blasted 1,197 out of the park, eclipsing the mark of 1,100 which had stood since 1950.

The American, which in recent seasons has been regarded as the "pitchers' league", is slightly under its home run aggregate of a year ago—75 to 80.

Overdue Surgery For Campanella

Brooklyn, May 4 (AP)—Discouraged by his miserable batting average and unable to swing properly, Brooklyn catcher Roy Campanella checked into the hospital today for an overdue operation on his left hand.

Originally, the most valuable player in the National League last year planned on struggling through until the end of the season. But when he was told that he probably would be out only four weeks, he decided to go ahead with the surgery which will remove a bone chip from his wrist.

Dr. Herbert Fett, orthopedic surgeon at Long Island College Hospital, will perform the operation. He has been examining a set of X-rays taken in Cincinnati last week and told the club he doubted that Campanella would be out more than four weeks.

Campanella said that as best he could recall, he hurt the hand sliding into second base during an exhibition game against the Yankees on March 31.

Cup Team Picked

New York, May 4 (AP) — Maureen (Little Mo) Connolly will lead the United States defenders in the Wightman Cup tennis matches against Great Britain on June 11-12. The rest of the team, named yesterday, includes Doris Hart, Shirley Fry and Louise Brough.

Jackson's .426 Leads National; Glynn's .406 Tops in American

New York, May 4 (AP)—Veteran outfielder Hank Sauer of the Chicago Cubs was challenging teammate Ransom Jackson for the National League batting lead today as he attempted to continue his best spring showing in many years.

Sauer collected eight hits in 13 trips last week to boost his average to .412. Meanwhile, Jackson tailed off from his .500 pace of a week ago and now finds himself only a shade ahead of Sauer at .426.

Sauer, in his eighth major league campaign, also is tied for the home run lead with Stan Musial of St. Louis with eight apiece.

In the American, League, Bill Glynn of Cleveland held onto the No. 1 spot in games through last night, but rookie outfielder Bill Tuttle of Detroit is making it close. Glynn is batting .406 to Tuttle's .404.

Musial, a torrid hitter last weekend, lifted his percentage to .393 and holds down third place in the National League. Stan is followed by Duke Snider of Brooklyn with .385 and Ray Jablonski of the Cardinals and Don Mueller of the New York Giants with .373 each.

Boston's Billy Goodman, a lifetime .311 batter, is third in the American with a .370 mark. Next come Johnny Groth of Chicago at .364, Bobby Avila of Cleveland .355 and Jackie Jensen of Boston, .354.

Jensen, Wally Westlake of Cleveland and Mickey Vernon of Washington are deadlocked for the American League lead in home runs with four each.

Sportsdom's most burning question of the moment:

Is the City Baseball League going to re-organize or sn't it?

Several baseball men have expressed concern about the complete breakdown in pre-season reorganization plans for the venerable twilight circuit.

The City League has travelled a tough road—financially—in recent years, with the result it has become almost impossible to find a man who will head the sagging baseball. It is the president who generally is saddled with the responsibility of seeking fresh capital to keep the league alive.

Edwin Murphy bowed out after a couple of hectic terms because of pressure of other duties. At the first meeting this year, there was unusual enthusiasm and league observers predicted a banner season with possibly six teams in the fold.

The futile search for a successor to Murphy has continued with a diminishing interest in re-organizational prospects. The last scheduled meeting of officers and managers and other brass hardly drew anyone.

With George Harman and Fred Davi operating first-rate ball clubs in town this summer, the few remaining fans will have a chance to see live baseball. But City League ball should be perpetuated at any cost.

The key to the City League dilemma is the selection of a new president, a person strong enough to rally the twi leaguers for another season. Where can he be found?

Joseph Carro of Kingston was part of a four-man fishing expedition that recently made a record haul of 12 lemon fish off Biloxi, Miss. The four fortunate anglers landed the dozen lemons in 13 strikes. Carro, through his friend John Dittus Jr. invites all aspiring fishermen to visit the Biloxi- Gulfport region in Mississippi which he describes as one of the best fishing grounds in the world. Murray Olderman says those Milwaukee give-aways of clothes, furniture, etc. to the Braves aren't all they're cracked up to be . . . because in each case an endorsement is demanded. This is the time of the year when some low-average bowling beginners wish the season could be extended several more weeks. Marietta Gorsline, a 116-average keglerette, surprised with a rousing 465 and Art Kubicek (137 avge.) rammed 497 in recent sessions of the Ferraro.

Al Corwin's release to Minneapolis removes one of the Hudson valley players from major league rosters. The other two—Wes Westrum and Maury McDermott of Poughkeepsie—are doing quite well at the moment, Although Maury Jr. must be getting a bit irked by the starvation diet of runs the Washington Senators are feeding him. Jack Blinder staged a mighty comeback in the Ferraro Major . . . from 108 to 202-224. It was Ferraro Family Night in the major league of the same name last week. John Ferraro rapped 656, his son, Jackie, hit 624 and brother Buster, the Ray Anthony of the polished lanes, smacked 628. It was real sporting of Charlie Manfro to report the Jones Dairy No. 2 scores at Beacon Saturday night, where the No. 1 squad won the scratch prize. Wonder when Casey Stengel will decide to go with the "old pro" lineup of Collins, 1b; Coleman, 2b; MacDougald, 3b; Rizzuto, ss; Bauer, Mantle and Woodling, ofs; Berra, catcher, and let the chips fall where they may. Marty Marion was comparing Oriole sensation to Robin Roberts one season back, if anybody bothered to listen.

"Quality Is Remembered Long After Price Is Forgotten"

WhiteSox'sFastGetawayHelped By Yankees' Stumbling Tactics

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago White Sox are making every effort to run off and hide from the New York Yankees in the American League pennant race and for a change they're getting some help.

For more seasons than they care to remember the rest of the managers in the league have found out the hard way that no team can beat the Bronx Bombers all by itself.

The New Yorkers always discovered a cousin or two somewhere, teams they could whip with ease while the contenders were busy battering each other out of the pennant race.

But not so far in 1954.

Every team the Yanks have played has beaten them at least once. And they've played every team in the league except Baltimore. The Orioles open a three-game series in New York today.

Meanwhile the White Sox have recovered from three quick losses at the start of the season and have won nine of their last 12 games. They lead the league by one game over the surprising Detroit Tigers and hold a four-game edge over the Yankees.

From start to finish a year ago the Yankees never were more than one game out of first place.

In addition to the pleasure of having the other teams beat the Yankees, the White Sox have received phenomenal pitching from unexpected sources and excellent hitting from a couple of fellows who have to produce to keep the pennant threat alive.

Groth on Spree

Johnny Groth, a .253 weakling with the St. Louis Browns last year, is leading the Sox with a .364 average. Ferris Fain, who followed two straight batting championships with a miserable .256 performance last season, is hitting at a .328 clip.

Bob Keegan, Sandy Consuegra and Don Johnson have accounted for seven victories without being beaten. Johnson, former Yankee property, is a fugitive from Toronto. Keegan and Consuegra had a combined 1953 record of 14-10.

Consuegra won his second one yesterday. Despite the 14-3 score against the Philadelphia Athletics he gave up only two hits, a bunt single and a windblown double, both by Forrest (Spook) Jacobs.

Consuegra had a perfect game working until Jacobs got his double with one out in the seventh.

Cards Beat Giants

The St. Louis Cardinals beat the New York Giants 8-2 last night in the only other actvity in either league. It was too cold at Milwaukee for Brooklyn to play the last place Braves and it was too wet at Washington for the Senators' game with Cleveland.

At St. Louis the Cardinals scored three runs on one hit—Tom Alston's double—in the first inning and three more on Ray Jablonski's home run in the fourth as Vic Raschi pitched his first complete game since leaving the Yankees.

Twice before Raschi has pitched nine innings but in each instance the game ran into extra innings.

Ruben Gomez, who never got anybody out in the first, was the loser. He walked three, one man was safe on an error and two scored on Alston's double. After that Gomez gave way to Mario Picone.

Stan Musial, who slugged a record five home runs in Sunday's twin bill with the Giants, didn't get a hit. He didn't get much chance. He was walked four times and fouled out on his one official appearance.

National Batsmen Booming Home Runs At Record Pace

New York, May 4 (AP)—National League batters, who hit home runs at a record rate last season, are slamming them at an even faster pace in 1954.

Figures compiled by the Associated Press revealed today that a total of 145 circuit blows have been struck in the senior circuit this year as against 123 in a comparable number of games in '53.

Last season, National League hitters blasted 1,197 out of the park, eclipsing the mark of 1,100 which had stood since 1950.

The American, which in recent seasons has been regarded as the "pitchers' league", is slightly under its home run aggregate of a year ago—75 to 80.

Jackson's .426 Leads National; Glynn's .406 Tops in American

New York, May 4 (AP)—Veteran outfielder Hank Sauer of the Chicago Cubs was challenging teammate Ransom Jackson for the National League batting lead today as he attempted to continue his best spring showing in many years.

Sauer collected eight hits in 13 trips last week to boost his average to .412. Meanwhile, Jackson tailed off from his .500 pace of a week ago and now finds himself only a shade ahead of Sauer at .426.

Sauer, in his eighth major league campaign, also is tied for the home run lead with Stan Musial of St. Louis with eight apiece.

In the American, League, Bill Glynn of Cleveland held onto the No. 1 spot in games through last night, but rookie outfielder Bill Tuttle of Detroit is making it close. Glynn is batting .406 to Tuttle's .404.

Musial, a torrid hitter last weekend, lifted his percentage to .393 and holds down third place in the National League. Stan is followed by Duke Snider of Brooklyn with .385 and Ray Jablonski of the Cardinals and Don Mueller of the New York Giants with .373 each.

Boston's Billy Goodman, a lifetime .311 batter, is third in the American with a .370 mark. Next come Johnny Groth of Chicago at .364, Bobby Avila of Cleveland .355 and Jackie Jensen of Boston, .354.

Jensen, Wally Westlake of Cleveland and Mickey Vernon of Washington are deadlocked for the American League lead in home runs with four each.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 4 (AP)—Railroads and a few individual issues were responsible today for a slightly higher stock market.

Gains usually went to between 1 and 2 points at the best while losses ordinarily were less than a point.

The market opened with a sag and continued to drift lower through the morning. By early afternoon, the railroads were higher along with selected motors, aircrafts, and rubbers.

Trading was mild with the pace not even reaching yesterday's 1,870,000 shares when the market was mixed.

Chrysler was especially active and higher. General Motors also was ahead but in a more subdued manner.

Sharon Steel, which lost 3⅝ yesterday on a lower earnings report, was down between 2 and 3 points today. General Dynamics continued to get the benefit of its increased dividend and was up between 1 and 2 points. A block of 5,100 shares of Pepsi-Cola went at 15 unchanged.

Among higher stocks were Goodyear, Cities Service, Lockheed, United Aircraft, Radio Corp., American Telephone, Westinghouse Electric, Santa Fe, New York Central, and Atlantic Coast Line.

Chalmers Authorized To Conduct Work

New York, May 4 (AP)—The State Land Board today authorized a Connecticut mechanic to conduct "limited explorations" for uranium on a National Guard reservation at Camp Smith near Peekskill.

Edward Chalmers, 44, of Glenville, Conn., was authorized to make uranium core drilling tests on approximately 240 acres of the 1,360 acres for which he had filed claims.

Chalmers and his attorneys say he has found amounts of uranium ore "satisfactory" for commercial purposes on the state-owned camp site.

Chalmers filed 34 claims to mineral rights at Camp Smith. The board today gave him permission to explore within the area covered by six of his claims. It denied him permission to explore the remainder of the area.

Stang further stressed that the land fill method of eliminating the useless swamp would solve the city's disposal problem, and do away with the Wilbur avenue dump in the 13th ward.

Perry said he is opposed to the project because of petitions against it. This morning he said approximately 400 residents of the Fifth ward have signed.

The disposal of city refuse is a matter for the board or public works, and, if a resolution were introduced at the Common Council meeting tonight, it would be referred to that body for attention.

Man Called Suicide

Circleville, May 4 (AP)—A 27-year-old housepainter was found hanged last night and authorities termed it suicide. Robert Broas, of 240 Highland avenue, Middletown, died in the attic of the farm home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Broas, whom he was visiting. Coroner Kenneth Black ruled it suicide, but the cause of Broas' action was not immediately ascertained. Broas served in the Marine Corps' 5th Division during World War 2.

Yonkers Raceway Headed for Strike

Yonkers, May 4 (AP)—Yonkers Raceway today faced a strike by the Standard-Bred Owners Association and officials admitted they would not attempt to stage Thursday's program unless more entries were forthcoming.

The dispute centers around a demand by the Owners' Association for a 15 per cent increase of the track's share of the mutuel play. The track has given the horsemen a five per cent increase in purses.

Only 66 entries have been received for Thursday's races, compared to the usual 150.

Black Hawk Ace Hockey's MVP

Montreal, May 4 (AP)—Tall Al Rollins, Chicago Black Hawks goalie, today was announced as the National Hockey League's most valuable player.

The angular netminder polled 80 points from the sports writers and broadcasters of the six NHL cities. Detroit's Red Kelly was a close second with 74 points, followed by Maurice (The Rocket) Richard of Montreal with 44.

Rollins, in winning the award—and the Hart Trophy that goes with it—thus became the first goalie to be adjudged the most valuable player since Chuck Rayner of the New York Rangers took the honor for his performance during the 1949-50 season.

To Vote on Schools

The question of consolidation with the Kingston school system will be voted upon tonight at a meeting of School District No. 8, town of Ulster, at 7:30 in the Ulster Hose Company No. 5 Fire Hall. Also under consideration as an alternative is consolidation with certain other districts, namely, Lake Katrine and Ruby.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 4 (AP)—Railroads and a few individual issues were responsible today for a slightly higher stock market.

Gains usually went to between 1 and 2 points at the best while losses ordinarily were less than a point.

The market opened with a sag and continued to drift lower through the morning. By early afternoon, the railroads were higher along with selected motors, aircrafts, and rubbers.

Trading was mild with the pace not even reaching yesterday's 1,870,000 shares when the market was mixed.

Chrysler was especially active and higher. General Motors also was ahead but in a more subdued manner.

Sharon Steel, which lost 3⅝ yesterday on a lower earnings report, was down between 2 and 3 points today. General Dynamics continued to get the benefit of its increased dividend and was up between 1 and 2 points. A block of 5,100 shares of Pepsi-Cola went at 15 unchanged.

Among higher stocks were Goodyear, Cities Service, Lockheed, United Aircraft, Radio Corp., American Telephone, Westinghouse Electric, Santa Fe, New York Central, and Atlantic Coast Line.

Chalmers Authorized To Conduct Work

New York, May 4 (AP)—The State Land Board today authorized a Connecticut mechanic to conduct "limited explorations" for uranium on a National Guard reservation at Camp Smith near Peekskill.

Edward Chalmers, 44, of Glenville, Conn., was authorized to make uranium core drilling tests on approximately 240 acres of the 1,360 acres for which he had filed claims.

Chalmers and his attorneys say he has found amounts of uranium ore "satisfactory" for commercial purposes on the state-owned camp site.

Chalmers filed 34 claims to mineral rights at Camp Smith. The board today gave him permission to explore within the area covered by six of his claims. It denied him permission to explore the remainder of the area.

Stang further stressed that the land fill method of eliminating the useless swamp would solve the city's disposal problem, and do away with the Wilbur avenue dump in the 13th ward.

Perry said he is opposed to the project because of petitions against it. This morning he said approximately 400 residents of the Fifth ward have signed.

The disposal of city refuse is a matter for the board or public works, and, if a resolution were introduced at the Common Council meeting tonight, it would be referred to that body for attention.

Man Called Suicide

Circleville, May 4 (AP)—A 27-year-old housepainter was found hanged last night and authorities termed it suicide. Robert Broas, of 240 Highland avenue, Middletown, died in the attic of the farm home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Broas, whom he was visiting. Coroner Kenneth Black ruled it suicide, but the cause of Broas' action was not immediately ascertained. Broas served in the Marine Corps' 5th Division during World War 2.

Yonkers, May 4 (AP)—Yonkers Raceway today faced a strike by the Standard-Bred Owners Association and officials admitted they would not attempt to stage Thursday's program unless more entries were forthcoming.

The dispute centers around a demand by the Owners' Association for a 15 per cent increase of the track's share of the mutuel play. The track has given the horsemen a five per cent increase in purses.

Only 66 entries have been received for Thursday's races, compared to the usual 150.

Black Hawk Ace Hockey's MVP

Montreal, May 4 (AP)—Tall Al Rollins, Chicago Black Hawks goalie, today was announced as the National Hockey League's most valuable player.

The angular netminder polled 80 points from the sports writers and broadcasters of the six NHL cities. Detroit's Red Kelly was a close second with 74 points, followed by Maurice (The Rocket) Richard of Montreal with 44.

Rollins, in winning the award—and the Hart Trophy that goes with it—thus became the first goalie to be adjudged the most valuable player since Chuck Rayner of the New York Rangers took the honor for his performance during the 1949-50 season.

Allies Prepare

peaceful solution of the Indochina question."

Van Dong shook hands first with Chou and after a round of greetings, drove off in the Chinese diplomat's limousine.

The Indochina parley is expected to get underway either tomorrow or Thursday.

Viet Nam, in Paris

Representatives of The Associates States of Indochina — Viet Nam, Loas and Cambodia—were still in Paris. But they can get here in little more than an hour by plane once a starting time for the talks is set.

These four delegations — together with representatives of the Big Four and Red China—will make up the conference which will seek to end the bitter jungle fighting in Indochina.

The first item of business for this group, however, will be to decide whether other countries will be invited to take part. A Soviet source said Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov would propose that India, Burma, Thailand and Indonesia be added to the list.

Observers said this might only be a gesture. The United States is anxious to keep the conference limited. The Soviet informant said Molotov was not prepared to insist on bringing in other countries if this jeopardized the parley.

Apparently the Russians are quite content that they were able to get the Vietminh seated in the talks. In Moscow, the Communist Party organ Pravda hailed the agreement to invite the Vietminh as a "new defeat for American policy."

Agreement Is Linked

Pravda linked the agreement with Secretary of State Dulles' long-planned departure from the conference. It declared the two moves showed the United States was "compelled, if not to make a complete retreat, at least to back up."

The rapid progress made in setting up the Indochinese phase of the conference caught many delegates by surprise. They had expected much more East-West bargaining on the procedure and composition of the parley.

In Paris, the French cabinet voiced satisfaction today that agreement had been reached here to open the Indochina talks.

Most observers had expected the question of Red China's status to delay or even deadlock the conference. It now looks as though the question will not be raised formally at all.
